What are the key risks that are specific to the Issuer?

a. Risk relating to the Group's business activities and industry

Future prospects: We have a limited operating history in an evolving industry that may not develop as expected. Assessing our business and future prospects is challenging in light of the risks and difficulties we may encounter. These risks and difficulties include our ability to (i) increase the number and total volume of loans we extend to our customers, while managing our credit risk, (ii) improve the terms on which we provide loans to our customers as our business becomes more efficient, (iii) increase the effectiveness of our direct marketing, (iv) increase partnership and brokerage network, (v) successfully develop and deploy new products, (vi) favorably compete with other companies that are currently in, or may in the future enter, the business of consumer lending, (vii) successfully navigate economic conditions and fluctuations in credit markets, (viii) effectively manage the growth of our business, (ix) respond to regulatory developments, (x) successfully integrate new acquisitions and (xi) successfully expand our business into new markets. We may not be able to successfully address these risks and difficulties, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Difficulties in assessing the credit risk of potential customers: Despite the credit scoring of the Group, it may be unable to correctly evaluate the current financial condition of each prospective customer and determine his or her creditworthiness and/or value of the collateral. The Group's lending decisions are based partly on information provided to it by applicants. Prospective customers may fraudulently provide it with inaccurate information upon which, if not alerted to the fraud, the Group may base its credit scoring. Any failure to correctly assess the credit risk of potential customers, due to failure in the Group's evaluation of the customer or incorrect information fraudulently provided by the customer, may have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows and may even invoke regulatory sanctions (including imposition of fines and penalties, suspension of operations, or revocation of our licenses).

Foreign exchange risks: The Group operates in various jurisdictions and provides loan products in local currencies: the Bulgarian Lev, the Moldavian Leu, the Albanian Lek, the Macedonian Denar and the Bosnia and Herzegovinian Convertible Mark. Thus, its results of operations are exposed to foreign exchange rate fluctuations and any failure to manage foreign exchange risk may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Covid-19: In addition to the worsening of the global macroeconomic scenario and the risk of deterioration of the credit profile of some customer segments, the Covid-19 pandemic could lead to further slowdowns in business activities.

b. Risks related to the Group's financial situation

Changes in our working capital requirements: Our working capital requirements can vary significantly from market to market, depending, in part, on differences in demand for the provision of consumer loans. If our available cash flows from operations are not sufficient to fund our on-going cash needs, we would be required to look to our cash balances and available credit facilities to satisfy those needs, as well as potential sources of additional capital.

Level of indebtedness: We have substantial indebtedness and we may incur additional indebtedness. Our high level of indebtedness could have important consequences for holders of the Bonds. The high level of our indebtedness and the consequences thereof could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We expect to obtain the funds to pay our expenses and to repay our indebtedness primarily from our operations.

Liquidity risks: The Group is exposed to liquidity risks arising out of the mismatches between the maturities of its assets and liabilities, which may prevent it from meeting its obligations in a timely manner. If short- and, in particular, long-term funding from international capital markets is unavailable or if maturity mismatches between its assets and liabilities occur, this may have a material adverse effect on its business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

c. Legal and regulatory risk

Certain countries where the Group operates pose risks of corruption violations. Failure to comply with anti-corruption laws, including anti-bribery laws, may result in penalties and sanctions, which may have a material adverse effect on our reputation and business.

d. Internal control risk

The interests of our beneficial owners may conflict with those of the Holders: The Group is ultimately controlled by several individuals. The interests of the ultimate beneficial owners may, in some circumstances, conflict with the interests of the Holders, particularly if the Group encounters financial difficulties or if we are unable to pay our debts as they become due. The ultimate beneficial owners could also have an interest in pursuing financings or other transactions which, in their judgment, could enhance their equity investment, although such transactions might increase the Group's indebtedness, require the Group to sell assets or otherwise impair our ability to make payments under the Bonds. Any potential conflict between the interests of the indirect controlling shareholder or the ultimate beneficial owners, on the one hand, and Holders, on the other hand, may have a material adverse effect on the value of the Bonds.

The Issuer expects to announce the results of the Offering and the allocation on or about 27 September 2021 through the information systems of the Nasdaq Tallinn Stock Exchange and the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and through the Issuer's website (bonds.iute.ee). The results of the Offering will be notified vis-à-vis the CSSF.

The expected date of listing and the admission to trading of the Bonds is on or about 6 October 2021.

While every effort will be made and due care will be taken by the Issuer in order to ensure the listing and the admission to trading of the Bonds, the Issuer cannot ensure that the Bonds are listed and admitted to trading on the Nasdaq Tallinn Stock Exchange's or on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange's regulated markets.

Expenses

Total expenses of the issue are expected to amount to EUR 1.5 million assuming full placement of the Bonds in the principal amount of EUR 50,000,000. The investors will not be charged by the Issuer any costs, expenses or taxes.

Why is this Prospectus being produced ?

The Bonds form part of the Issuer's debt financing on the capital markets and this Prospectus has been prepared for the purposes of generating proceeds from the issuance of the Bonds.

The net proceeds of the Bonds, approximately EUR 48.5 million assuming full placement of the Bonds in the principal amount of EUR 50,000,000, will be used by the Group to refinance existing indebtedness and for general business purposes, including financing of growth in current and future markets as well as potential acquisitions. The Issuer will lend the proceeds to Holdco and/or the Group companies as required. The final amount of net proceeds will be communicated to investors in the Pricing Notice.

The issue of the Bonds is not subject to an underwriting agreement.

There are no material conflicts of interest pertaining to the admission of the Bonds to trading on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange's regulated market and on the Nasdaq Tallinn Stock Exchange's regulated market.

II. RISK FACTORS

Below is the description of risk factors that are material for the assessment of the market risk associated with the Bonds and risk factors that may affect each of the Issuer's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Bonds and, as applicable, the Guarantors' ability to fulfil their obligations under the Guarantee. Any of these risks could have a material adverse effect on the financial condition and results of operations of the Group. The market price of the Bonds could decline due to any of these risks, and investors could lose all or part of their investments.

Potential investors should carefully consider the specific risk factors outlined below in addition to all other information in this Prospectus and consult with their own professional advisors should they deem it necessary before deciding upon the purchase of the Bonds. In addition, investors should bear in mind that several of the described risks can occur simultaneously and those have, possibly together with other circumstances, a material adverse impact on the Group's business activities, financial conditions and result of operations. Additional risks, of which the Issuer is not presently aware, could also affect the business operations of the Group and have a material adverse effect on the Group's business activities and financial condition and results of operations.

In each category below the Issuer sets out first the most material risks, in its assessment. The assessment of the materiality of each risk factor based on the probability of its occurrence and the expected magnitude of its negative impact is disclosed by rating the relevant risk as, low, medium or high.

Potential investors should, among other things, consider the following:

1. RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE ISSUER, THE GROUP AND OUR BUSINESS

The Guarantors are direct subsidiaries of Holdco and part of the Group. Accordingly, the Issuer and the Guarantors are affected, substantially, by the same risks as those that affect the business and operations of the entire Group. Therefore, references in this section to the Group shall include references to the Issuer and all Guarantors (if applicable). In relation to the Issuer and each Guarantor, no additional risks occur.

a. Risks relating to the Group's business activities and industry

We have a limited operating history in an evolving industry, which makes it difficult to evaluate our future prospects and may increase the risk that we will not be successful

We have a limited operating history in an evolving industry that may not develop as expected. Assessing our business and future prospects is challenging in light of the risks and difficulties we may encounter. These risks and difficulties include our ability to:

- increase the number and total volume of loans we extend to our customers, while managing our credit risk;
- improve the terms on which we provide loans to our customers as our business becomes more efficient;
- increase the effectiveness of our direct marketing;
- increase partnership and brokerage network;
- successfully develop and deploy new products;

- favorably compete with other companies that are currently in, or may in the future enter, the business of consumer lending;
- successfully navigate economic conditions and fluctuations in credit markets;
- effectively manage the growth of our business;
- respond to regulatory developments;
- successfully integrate new acquisitions; and
- successfully expand our business into new markets.

We may not be able to successfully address these risks and difficulties, which could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

We may face difficulties in assessing the credit risk of potential borrowers

Despite our credit scoring and vehicle valuation models, we may be unable to correctly evaluate the current financial condition of each prospective customer and determine his or her creditworthiness and/or value of the collateral. Our lending decisions are based partly on information provided to us by applicants. Prospective customers may fraudulently provide us with inaccurate information upon which, if not alerted to the fraud, we may base our credit scoring. Any failure to correctly assess the credit risk of potential customers, due to failure in our evaluation of the customer or incorrect information fraudulently provided by the customer, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows and may even invoke regulatory sanctions (including imposition of fines and penalties, suspension of operations, or revocation of our licenses).

We utilize a variety of credit scoring criteria, monitor the performance of our loan portfolios and maintain an allowance for estimated losses on loans and advances (including interest fees) at a level estimated to be adequate to absorb expected credit losses. Our allowances for doubtful debts are estimates and if circumstances or risks arise that we do not identify or anticipate when developing our credit scoring model, the level of our non-performing assets and write-offs could be greater than expected. Actual losses may materially exceed the level of our allowance for impairment losses, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

In addition, factors beyond our control, such as the impact of macroeconomic trends, political events or adverse events affecting our key jurisdictions, or natural disasters, may result in an increase in non-performing assets. Our allowances for doubtful debts may not be adequate to cover an increase in the amount of non-performing assets or any future deterioration in the overall credit quality of our total portfolio. If the quality of our total portfolio deteriorates, we may be required to increase our allowances for doubtful debts, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

Our operations in various countries subject us to foreign exchange risk

We operate in various jurisdictions and provide loan products in local non-Euro currencies: the Bulgarian Lev, the Moldavian Leu (“MDL”), the Albanian Lek (“ALL”), the Bosnia and Herzegovinian Convertible Mark (“BAM”) and the North Macedonian Denar (“MKD”). Thus, our results of operations are exposed to foreign exchange rate fluctuations. Although we regularly monitor our open foreign currency positions, and manage them by evaluating potential economically viable financial instruments we are still subject to certain shifts in currency valuations. Any failure to manage foreign exchange risk may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

COVID-19

It should be noted the importance of the health crisis deriving from the spread of the COVID-19 virus, which was qualified as a pandemic by the World Health Organization (WHO) on 11 March 2020. In addition to the worsening of the global macroeconomic scenario and the risk of deterioration of the credit profile of some customer segments, the mentioned pandemic had lead and could further lead to slowdowns in business activities. In particular, further slowdowns could result from: (i) measures issued by national and foreign authorities; (ii) internal reorganization due to the implementation of smart working for the vast majority of our activities, alongside the limitation of certain types of technical and commercial interventions; (iii) difficulties encountered by our customers in repaying the loans; and (iv) the decrease of the propensity to consume, negatively impacting our overall results and our objectives.

The emergency response includes the implementation of measures relating to the operational continuity of business processes, in order to guarantee the functionality of our services and to protect the health of our employees. The ultimate severity of the COVID-19 virus is uncertain and therefore we cannot predict the further impact it may have on our businesses, operations, financial conditions and results.

Risk rating: Medium.

We are dependent upon our information technology systems to conduct our business operations

Our operations are significantly dependent on highly complex information technology (“IT”) systems. The loan underwriting process is mainly performed automatically by IT systems developed internally by us and used at various stages of the underwriting process, including customer registration, application, credit scoring and digital signing. For online identity verification we use an external IT system. In addition, bank transfers are completed online and reminder e-mails are automatically processed and sent to customers. If any IT system at any stage of the loan underwriting process were to fail, any or all stages of the underwriting process could be affected and customer access to our websites and products could be disrupted. Any disruption in our loan engine system would prevent customers from applying for loans, which would hinder our ability to conduct business and have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

In addition, IT systems are vulnerable to a number of problems, including computer viruses, unauthorized access, physical damage to vital IT centers and software or hardware malfunctions. Any interruption in, or security breach of, our IT systems, could have a material adverse effect on our operations, such as the ability to serve our customers in a timely manner, accurately record financial data and protect us and our customers from financial fraud or theft. If our operations are compromised, our reputation and customer confidence in our business may deteriorate and we may suffer significant financial losses, any of which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Moreover, our IT strategy is based on utilizing in our view the most sophisticated technologies and solutions available on the market. Therefore, we intend to continue making substantial investments in our IT systems and to adapt our operations and software to support current and future growth. We are required to continually upgrade our global IT system, and any failure to carry out such upgrades efficiently may result in the loss or impairment of our ability to do business or in additional remedial expense. In addition, there can be no assurance that we will be able to keep up to date with the most recent technological developments due to financial or technical limitations. Any inability to successfully develop or complete planned upgrades of our IT systems and infrastructure or to adapt our operations and software may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

The continued expansion of our loan portfolio depends, to an increasing extent, upon our ability to obtain adequate funding

Our growth depends, to a significant extent, on our ability to obtain adequate funding from a variety of sources such as the international capital markets, marketplace platforms and bank facilities. It is possible that these sources of financing may not be available in the future in the amounts we require, or they may be prohibitively expensive and/or contain overly onerous terms. European and international credit markets have experienced, and may continue to experience, high volatility and severe liquidity disruptions, such as those that took place following the international financial and economic crisis in 2008-2009, and more recently, the European sovereign debt crisis. These and other related events have had a significant impact on the global financial system and capital markets, and may make it increasingly expensive for us to diversify our funding sources and refinance our debt if necessary. Increased funding costs or greater difficulty in diversifying our funding sources may negatively impact our ability to sufficiently finance the expansion of our business operations, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

Our business depends on services provided by third parties such as banks, local consumer credit agencies, IT services providers and debt-collection agencies

We advance loans to customers and collect repayments from customers using local bank accounts. Our continuing relationships with the banks with which we maintain accounts and with which we may in the future establish direct debit arrangements are critical to our business.

We contact consumer credit agencies and use other publicly available data sources in the jurisdictions in which we operate to verify the identity and creditworthiness of potential customers. Should access to such information be restricted or disrupted for any period of time, or should the rates we are charged for access to such information significantly increase, we may not be able to complete automatic credit scoring checks, especially to our new customers whose financial data and loan performance is unknown to us, in a timely manner or at all. This could impede our ability to process applications and issue loans and/or increase our cost of operation.

Risk rating: Medium.

Our current interest rate spread may decline in the future, which could reduce our profitability

We earn a substantial majority of our income from interest payments and fees on the loans we make to our customers. Bonds issuance in the international capital markets and other funding sources provide us with the capital to fund these loans and charge us interest on those borrowings. In the event that the spread between the rate at which we lend to our customers and the rate at which we raise debt funding or pay from our depositors decreases, our financial results and operating performance will suffer. The interest rates we charge to our customers and pay to our lenders could each be affected by a variety of factors, including access to capital based on our business performance, the volume of loans we make to our customers, competition and regulatory requirements. These interest rates may also be affected by a change over time in the mix of the types of products we sell to our customers and investors. Interest rate changes may adversely affect our business forecasts and expectations and are highly sensitive to many macroeconomic factors beyond our control, such as inflation, the level of economic growth, the state of the credit markets, changes in market interest rates, global economic disruptions, unemployment and the fiscal and monetary policies of the jurisdictions in which we operate. Any material reduction in our interest rate spread could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

Our ability to recover outstanding debt may deteriorate if there is an increase in the number of our customers facing personal insolvency procedures

Various economic trends and potential changes to existing legislation may contribute to an increase in the number of customers subject to personal insolvency procedures. Under some insolvency procedures, a person's assets may be sold to repay creditors; a majority of our loans, however, are unsecured, and we are often unable to collect on such loans. The ability to successfully collect on our loans may decline with an increase in personal insolvency procedures or a change in insolvency laws, regulations, practices or procedures, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Rapid growth and expansion may place significant strain on our managerial and operational resources and could be costly

We have experienced substantial growth and development in a relatively short period of time, although our strategy is to grow profitably our business may continue to grow substantially in the future. This growth has placed and may continue to place significant demands on our management and our operational and financial infrastructure. Expanding our products or entering into new jurisdictions with new or existing products can be costly and may require significant management time and attention. Additionally, as our operations grow in size, scope and complexity and our product offerings increase, we will need to upgrade our systems and infrastructure to offer an increasing number of customers enhanced solutions, features and functionality. The expansion of our systems and infrastructure will require us to commit substantial financial, operational and technical resources in advance of an increase in the volume of business, with no assurance that the volume of business will ultimately increase. Continued growth could also strain our ability to maintain reliable service levels for our customers, develop and improve our operational, financial and management controls, develop and enhance our legal and compliance controls and processes, enhance our reporting systems and procedures and recruit, train and retain highly skilled personnel. Managing our growth will require, among other things, continued development of financial and management controls and IT systems; increased marketing activities; hiring and training of new personnel; and the ability to adapt to changes in the markets in which we operate, including changes in legislation, incurrence of additional taxes, increased competition and changes in the demand for our services. Rapid growth and expansion may be costly, and may strain our managerial and operational resources; any difficulties encountered in managing our growth may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Damage to our reputation and brand or a deterioration in the quality of our service may impede our ability to attract new customers and retain existing customers

Our ability to attract new customers and retain existing customers depends in part on our brand recognition and our reputation for and delivery of high quality services. Our reputation and brand may be harmed if we encounter difficulties in the provision of new or existing services, whether due to technical difficulties, changes to our traditional product offerings, financial difficulties, regulatory sanctions, or for any other reason. Damage to our reputation and brand, or a deterioration in the quality of our service, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

The international scope of our operations may contribute to increased costs

We currently operate in 5 jurisdictions and, as part of our business strategy, we aim to continue pursuing attractive business opportunities in new jurisdictions. Although we analyze and carefully plan our international expansion and strictly control our investments, such expansion increases the complexity of our organization and may result in additional administrative costs (including costs relating to investments in IT), operational risk (including risks relating to management and control of cash flows and management and control of local personnel), other regulatory risk (including risks relating to non-compliance with data protection, anti-money laundering and local laws and regulations) and other challenges in managing our business. Any unforeseen changes or mistakes in planning or controlling our operations in these respects may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

The introduction of our new products and services may not be successful

As part of our business strategy, we may develop and introduce products and services that complement our current lending proposition. For example, in January 2019, we launched our new product, the Mastercard by luteCredit Macedonia DOOEL–Skopje in North Macedonia only for the time being. This card is available immediately upon the approval of any loan application and it offers a unique vertical look on the current market. The Mastercard product offers, among others, the possibility to withdraw money from all ATMs around North Macedonia and rest of the world. However, we cannot guarantee these pilot products will be developed into permanent product offerings or that we will launch any other new products. We can also offer no assurance that any products or services that we introduce will be successful once they are offered to our current or future customers. We may not be able to adequately anticipate our target customers' needs or desires, which could change over time rendering certain of our products and services obsolete. We may face difficulties in making these products and services profitable and may incur significant costs in connection with such products. Moreover, our introduction of additional financial products or services could subject us to additional regulation or regulatory oversight by governmental authorities. Any of these factors may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Our business depends on marketing affiliates to assist us in obtaining new customers

We are dependent on marketing affiliates as a source for new customers. Our marketing affiliates place our advertisements on their websites, which, in turn, direct potential customers to our websites. As a result, the success of our business depends substantially on the willingness and ability of marketing affiliates to provide us customer leads at acceptable prices.

The failure of our marketing affiliates to comply with applicable laws and regulations, or any changes in laws and regulations applicable to marketing affiliates or changes in the interpretation or implementation of such laws and regulations, could have an adverse effect on our business and could increase negative perceptions of our business and industry. Also, certain changes in our online marketing affiliates' internal policies or privacy rules could limit our ability to advertise online. Additionally, the use of marketing affiliates could subject us to additional regulatory cost and expense. Any restriction on our ability to use marketing affiliates may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

A decrease in demand for our financial products and failure by us to adapt to such decrease could result in a loss of income

Our income is primarily based on short-term consumer lending. Accordingly, any decrease in demand for our products could have a significant impact on our income. A variety of factors could influence demand for our products, such as increased availability or attractiveness of competing financial products, changes in consumer sentiment and spending or borrowing patterns, regulatory restrictions that inhibit customer access to particular financial services, and changes in the financial condition of our customers that cause them to seek loans with longer maturities and/or larger size from other lending institutions or, alternatively, to exit the lending market entirely. Should we fail to adapt to a significant change in customer demand for, or access to, our products and services, our income could decrease significantly and our on-going business operations could be adversely affected. Even if we do adapt our existing products or introduce new products to meet changing customer demand, customers may resist or reject such products. The effect of any product diversification or change on the results of our business may not be fully ascertainable until the change has been in effect for some time. All of these factors may result in a loss of income and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

We may be unable to protect our proprietary technology or keep up with that of our competitors and we may become subject to intellectual property disputes, which are costly to defend and could harm our business and operating results

The success of our online and mobile lending business depends to a significant degree upon the protection of our software and other proprietary intellectual property rights. We may be unable to deter misappropriation or other unauthorized use of our proprietary information or take appropriate steps to enforce our intellectual property rights. In addition, competitors could, without violating our proprietary rights, develop technologies that are as good as or better than our technology. Failure to protect our software and other proprietary intellectual property rights or to develop technologies that are as good as our competitors' could put us at a competitive disadvantage. Any such failures may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

From time to time, we may face allegations that we have infringed trademarks, copyrights, patents or other intellectual property rights of third parties, including from our competitors. Patent and other intellectual property litigation may be protracted and expensive, and the results are difficult to predict and may require us to stop offering certain products or product features, acquire licenses which may not be available at a commercially reasonable price or at all, or modify our products, product features, processes or websites while we develop non-infringing substitutes. Such events may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

We are subject to cyber security risks and security breaches and may incur increasing costs in an effort to minimize those risks and respond to cyber incidents

Our business involves the storage and transmission of customers' proprietary information, and security breaches could expose us to a risk of loss or misuse of this information, litigation and potential liability. We are entirely dependent on the secure operation of our websites and systems, and the websites and systems of our data center providers, as well as on the operation of the internet generally. While we experience cyber-attacks or security breaches from time to time, we have incurred no significant material cyber-attacks or security breaches to date, a number of other companies have disclosed cyber-attacks and security breaches, some of which have involved intentional attacks. Attacks may be targeted at us, our customers and/or our data center providers. Although we and our data center providers devote resources to maintain and regularly upgrade our systems and processes that are designed to protect the security of our computer systems, software, networks and other technology assets and the confidentiality, integrity and availability of information belonging to us and our customers, there is no assurance that these security measures will provide absolute security. Despite our efforts to ensure the integrity of our systems and our data center providers' efforts to ensure the integrity of their systems, effective preventive measures against all security breaches may not be anticipated or implemented, especially because the techniques used change frequently or are not recognized until launched, and because cyber-attacks can originate from a wide variety of sources, including third parties outside the Group such as persons who are involved with organized crime or associated with external service providers or who may be linked to terrorist organizations or hostile foreign governments. These risks may increase in the future as we continue to increase our mobile and other internet-based product offerings and expand our internal usage of web-based products and applications or expand into new countries. If an actual or perceived breach of security occurs, customer and/or supplier perception of the effectiveness of our security measures could be harmed and could result in the loss of customers, suppliers or both. Actual or anticipated attacks and risks may cause us to incur increased costs, including costs to deploy additional personnel and protection technologies, train employees or engage third party experts and consultants.

A successful penetration or circumvention of our security systems or the security system of our data center providers could cause serious negative consequences to our business, including significant disruption of our operations, misappropriation of our confidential information or that of our customers or damage to our computers or systems or those of our customers and counterparties, and could result in violations of applicable privacy and other laws, financial loss to us or to our customers, loss of confidence in our security measures, customer dissatisfaction, significant litigation exposure and reputational harm, all of which could have a material adverse effect on us. In addition, most of our applicants provide personal information, including bank account information when applying for consumer loans. We rely on encryption and authentication technology licensed from third parties to provide the security and authentication to effectively secure transmission of confidential information, including customer bank account and other personal information. Advances in computer capabilities, new discoveries in the field of cryptography or other developments may result in the breach or compromise of the technology used by us to protect transaction data. Data breaches can also occur as a result of non-technical issues.

Our servers are also vulnerable to computer viruses, physical or electronic break-ins, and similar disruptions, including “denial-of-service” type attacks. We may need to expend significant resources to protect against security breaches or to address problems caused by breaches. Security breaches that result in the unauthorized release of customers’ personal information could damage our reputation and expose us to a risk of loss or litigation and possible liability. In addition, many of the third parties who provide products, services or support to us could also experience any of the cyber risks or security breaches described above, which could impact our customers and our business and could result in a loss of customers, suppliers or income.

Any of these events could result in a loss of income and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Our success is dependent upon our management and employees and our ability to attract and retain qualified employees

Our success depends on our management and employees who possess highly specialized knowledge and experience in IT and the development of the consumer lending business. Many members of our senior management team possess significant experience in the consumer lending industry and knowledge of the regulatory and legal environments in the markets in which we operate, and we believe that our senior management would be difficult to replace. The market for qualified individuals is highly competitive and labor costs for the hiring and training of new employees are increasing. Accordingly, we may not be able to attract and/or retain qualified managers or IT specialists, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

The preparation of our consolidated financial statements under IFRS and certain tax positions taken by us require the judgment of management, and we could be subject to risks associated with these judgments or could be adversely affected by the implementation of new, or changes in the interpretation of existing, accounting standards, financial reporting requirements or tax rules

We prepare our consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as adopted by the European Union (“IFRS”). IFRS and its interpretations are subject to change over time. If new accounting standards or interpretations of or amendments to existing accounting standards require us to change our financial reporting, our results of operations and financial condition could be materially adversely affected, and we could be required to restate historical financial reporting.

The preparation of our consolidated financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the board of directors and other management personnel to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, at the dates of the consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of income and expenses in the reporting periods. It also requires our board of directors and other management personnel to exercise their judgment in the application of our accounting policies. There is a risk that such estimates, assumptions or judgments by the board of directors and other management personnel do not correctly reflect the actual financial position of the Group.

In addition, management’s judgment is required in determining the provision for income taxes, the levels of deferred tax assets and liabilities and any valuation allowance recorded against deferred tax assets, along with our approach to matters concerning withholding tax and value added tax. We regularly assess the adequacy of our tax provisions. If required, we also seek advice from external tax advisors. There can be no assurance as to the outcome of these decisions, or to the quality of advice we receive. From time to time, we may become subject to tax audits in the jurisdictions in which we operate. Furthermore, the tax laws and regulations, including the interpretation and enforcement thereof, in the jurisdictions in which we operate may be subject to change. As a result, we may face increases in taxes payable if tax rates increase, or if tax laws or regulations are modified in an adverse manner. Any additional or increased tax payments may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

If we fail to geographically diversify and expand our operations and customer base, our business may be adversely affected

Several countries in which we operate generate a significant share of our income. As a result, we are exposed to country-specific risks with respect to such national markets. In such markets, a dissatisfaction with our products, a revocation of our operating license, a decrease in customer demand, a failure to successfully market our new and existing products or the failure to further expand our customer base and retain our existing customer base may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows. While we continue to seek opportunities to expand our operations into new markets, there can be no guarantee that such efforts of diversification will be successful. Failure to geographically diversify and expand our operations and customer base could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Failure to keep up with the rapid changes in e-commerce and the uses and regulation of the Internet could harm our business

The business of providing products and services such as ours over the Internet is dynamic and relatively new. We must keep pace with rapid technological change, consumer use habits, Internet security risks, risks of system failure or inadequacy and governmental regulation and taxation. Local regulators may have divergent interpretations as to the classification of our services provided online, which may result in the reclassification of our services into e-money, payment or other services requiring a separate license. In addition, concerns about fraud, computer security and privacy and/or other problems may discourage additional customers from adopting or continuing to use the Internet as a medium of commerce, and each of these factors could adversely impact our business.

Risk rating: Low.

Negative public perception of our business could cause demand for our products to significantly decrease

In recent years, there has been an increase in negative media coverage relating to short-term and single-payment loans of the type we offer. Certain consumer advocacy groups, as well as politicians and government officials in various jurisdictions where we operate, have advocated governmental action designed to place severe restrictions on the activities of short-term consumer lenders such as ourselves. The fees and/or interest charged by us and others in the industry attract media publicity about the industry and can be perceived as controversial. The negative characterization of these types of loans and lending practices could lead to more restrictive or adverse legislative or regulatory changes, which, in turn, may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows. See “Our business is highly regulated, and if we fail to comply with existing or newly introduced applicable laws, regulations, rules and guidance, we may be subject to fines or, penalties or limitations, have to exit certain markets or be restricted from carrying out certain operations.”

In addition, our ability to attract and retain customers is highly dependent upon the success of our marketing campaigns and public reputation, including perceptions of our customer service, integrity, business practices and financial condition. Restrictions on our ability to advertise our products or negative perceptions or publicity regarding short-term lending in general—even if related to seemingly isolated incidents or to practices not specific to short-term loans, such as debt collection—could erode trust and confidence in us and damage our reputation among existing and potential customers, which could make it difficult for us to maintain or expand our customer base or could reduce the demand for our products and services, both of which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

If internet search engine providers change their methodologies for organic rankings or paid search results, or our organic rankings or paid search results decline for other reasons, our ability to attract new customers or to expand the volume of business from returning customers could be adversely affected and others, directing a significant amount of traffic to our desktop and mobile websites via organic ranking and paid search advertising. Our competitors' paid search activities may result in their sites receiving higher paid search results than ours and/or in a substantial increase to our advertising costs.

Our acquisition marketing for new customers and our relationship management with respect to returning customers are partly dependent on search engines, such as Google, Bing, Yahoo!

Our paid search activities may not produce (and in the past have not always produced) the results we desire. Internet search engines often revise their methodologies, which could adversely affect our organic rankings or paid search results, leading to a decline in our ability to attract new customers or retain existing customers (for example, in July 2016, Google introduced a global policy update that prevented companies offering online loans with a term of less than 60 days from using its advertising services). Such revisions may also cause difficulties for our customers in using our web and mobile sites, or result in more successful organic rankings, paid search results or tactical execution efforts for our competitors, a slowdown in the overall growth in our customer base and the loss of existing customers, as well as higher costs for acquiring returning customers. In addition, search engines could implement policies that restrict the ability of consumer finance companies, such as the Group, to advertise their services and products, which could reduce the likelihood of companies in our industry appearing in a prominent location in organic rankings or paid search results when certain search terms are used by the consumer. Our online marketing efforts are also susceptible to actions by third parties that negatively impact our search results such as spam link attacks, which are often referred to as 'black hat' tactics. Our sites have experienced meaningful fluctuations in organic rankings and paid search results in the past, and we anticipate similar fluctuations in the future. Any reduction in the number of consumers directed to our web and mobile sites may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

We also outsource certain IT services, such as software development, data center and technical support, to third party providers

Moreover, we generally outsource the collection of debt to debt-collection agencies in the jurisdictions in which we operate. The loss of a key debt-collection agency relationship, or the financial failure of one of our core debt-collection agency partners, could restrict our ability to recover delinquent debt, and there is no guarantee that we could replace a strategic debt-collection agency partner in a timely manner or on favorable terms.

Any inability to maintain existing business relationships with banks, local consumer credit agencies, IT service providers, debt-collection agencies and other third party providers or the failure by these third party providers to maintain the quality of their services or otherwise provide their services to us may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

New top level domain names may allow for the entrance of new competitors or dilution of our brands, which may reduce the value of our domain name assets

We have invested heavily in promoting our brands, including our website addresses. The Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers, the entity responsible for administering internet protocol addresses, has introduced, and has proposed the introduction of, additional new domain name suffixes in different formats, many of which may be more attractive than the formats held by us and which may allow the entrance of new competitors at limited cost. It may also permit other operators to register websites with addresses similar to ours, causing customer confusion and the dilution of our brands, which could materially adversely affect our business, prospects, results of operations and financial condition. Any defensive domain registration strategy or attempts to protect our trademarks or brands may be costly and may ultimately prove unsuccessful, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Potential union activities could have an adverse effect on our relationship with our workforce

None of our employees are currently covered by a collective bargaining agreement or represented by an employee union. If our employees become represented by an employee union or become subject to a collective bargaining agreement, it may make it more difficult for us to manage our business and to attract and retain new employees and may increase our cost of doing business. If our employees unionize or sign up to a collective bargaining agreement or if other labor-related requirements are imposed on us, we may experience work stoppages and incur higher employee costs, which, in turn, could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

b. Risks related to the Group's financial situation

Changes in our working capital requirements may adversely affect our liquidity and financial condition

Our working capital requirements can vary significantly from market to market, depending, in part, on differences in demand for used consumer credit. If our available cash flows from operations are not sufficient to fund our on-going cash needs, we would be required to look to our cash balances and available credit facilities to satisfy those needs, as well as potential sources of additional capital. We are, as such, exposed to liquidity risks arising out of the mismatches between the maturities of our assets and liabilities, which may prevent us from meeting our obligations in a timely manner. If short- and, in particular, long-term funding from international capital markets is unavailable or if maturity mismatches between our assets and liabilities occur, this may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Furthermore, an economic or industry downturn, such as the recent financial and economic downturn in Europe, could increase the level of non-performing loans. A significant deterioration in our debt collection could affect our cash flow and working capital position and could also negatively impact the cost or availability of financing to us.

If our capital resources are insufficient to meet our working capital requirements, we will have to raise additional funds. We may not be able to raise sufficient additional funds on terms that are favorable to us, if at all. If we fail to raise sufficient funds, our ability to fund our operations, take advantage of strategic opportunities or otherwise respond to competitive pressures could be significantly limited, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows. See also "The continued expansion of our loan portfolio depends, to an increasing extent, upon our ability to obtain adequate funding."

Risk rating: Medium.

Our substantial level of indebtedness could adversely affect our financial condition, our ability to obtain financing in the future and our ability to fulfill our obligations under the Bonds

We have substantial indebtedness and we may incur additional indebtedness. Our high level of indebtedness could have important consequences for holders of the Bonds. For example, it could:

- make it more difficult for us to satisfy our obligations with respect to the Bonds and our other indebtedness, resulting in possible defaults on and acceleration of such indebtedness;
- require us to dedicate a substantial portion of our cash flow from operations to the payment of principal and interest on our indebtedness, thereby reducing the availability of such cash flows to fund working capital, acquisitions, capital expenditures and other general corporate purposes;
- limit our ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, acquisitions, capital expenditures, debt service requirements and other general corporate purposes;
- limit our ability to refinance indebtedness or cause the associated costs of such refinancing to increase;
- limit our ability to fund change of control offers;
- restrict the ability of our subsidiaries to pay dividends or otherwise transfer assets to us, which could limit our ability to, among other things, make required payments on our debt;
- increase our vulnerability to general adverse economic and industry conditions, including interest rate fluctuations (because a portion of our borrowings may have variable rates of interest); and
- place us at a competitive disadvantage compared to other companies with proportionately less debt or comparable debt at more favorable interest rates who, as a result, may be better positioned to withstand economic downturns.

The high level of our indebtedness and the consequences thereof (as described above) could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. We expect to obtain the funds to pay our expenses and to repay our indebtedness primarily from our operations. Our ability to meet our expenses and make these payments thus depends on our future performance, which will be affected by financial, business, economic, regulatory and other factors, many of which we cannot control. Our business may not generate sufficient cash flow from operations in the future and our currently anticipated growth in income and cash flow may not be realized, either or both of which could result in our being unable to repay indebtedness, or to fund other liquidity needs. If we do not have enough funds, we may be required to refinance all or part of our then existing debt, sell assets or borrow more funds, which we may not be able to accomplish on terms acceptable to us, or at all. In addition, the terms of existing or future debt agreements may restrict us from pursuing any of these alternatives.

Risk rating: Medium.

We may face liquidity risks

We are exposed to liquidity risks arising out of the mismatches between the maturities of our assets and liabilities, which may prevent us from meeting our obligations in a timely manner. If short- and, in particular, long-term funding from international capital markets is unavailable or if maturity mismatches between our assets and liabilities occur, this may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

We are subject to impairment risk

Our loan portfolio is subject to the risk of impairment. We examine each of our delinquency buckets separately for impairment on a monthly basis and we apply a formula for assessing net impairment losses for each reporting period.

In relation to our growth, our net impairment charges have increased substantially in recent years. In the financial years ended 31 December 2020, 31 December 2019 and 31 December 2018, we recorded net impairment charges resulting from allowances for loan impairment of EUR 18,756 thousand, EUR 10,937 thousand and EUR 10,376 thousand respectively, substantially higher than the impairment charge of EUR 3,200 thousand taken in the financial year ended 31 December 2017. In the financial years ended 31 December 2016 and 2015, our net impairment charges were EUR 1,500 thousand and EUR 900 thousand respectively. We attribute a significant portion of this increase in impairment charges to our rapid expansion in existing and new jurisdictions in recent years. As we plan to continue expanding our operations in the future, particularly in new jurisdictions (with the remaining increase due to an increase in the scale of our operations), there is a risk that our impairment charges will continue to rise. We continue to monitor relevant circumstances, including consumer levels, general economic conditions and the market prices for our products, and the potential impact that such circumstances might have on the valuation of our assets. It is possible that changes in such circumstances, or in the numerous variables associated with our judgments, assumptions and estimates made in assessing the appropriate valuation of assets, could in the future require us to further reduce our assets and record related non-cash impairment charges. If we are required to record additional impairment charges, this may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

The terms of existing and future financings may impose financial and operating restrictions on us

The terms of existing financings, contain (and the terms of future financings may contain) a number of customary negative and other covenants, including, restricting our ability to do the following, among other things:

- incur more debt;
- change our line of business;
- make dividend payments, stock repurchases and other distributions;
- engage in certain mergers, consolidations and transfers of all or substantially all of our assets;

- make acquisitions of all of the business or assets of, or stock representing beneficial ownership of, any person;
- dispose of certain assets; and
- incur liens.

These covenants and restrictions could limit our ability to fund future operations or make capital expenditures, acquisitions or other investments in the future. Any failure to comply with any of the covenants under our existing and future financings may constitute an event of default under such financings, entitling the lenders to, among other things, terminate future credit availability, increase the interest rate on outstanding debt and/or accelerate the maturity of outstanding obligations. Any such default may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

Difficult conditions in the global financial markets and in the economy could have an adverse effect on our business

Although there have been signs of a global economic recovery during the last several years, various concerns remain regarding the ability of certain EU Member States and other countries to continue servicing their sovereign debt obligations or maintain their existing credit ratings. The significant economic stagnation in certain countries in the Eurozone, especially Greece, Ireland, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Slovenia and Cyprus, in part due to the effects of the sovereign debt crisis and corresponding austerity measures in these markets, has added to these concerns. The measures so far implemented to reduce public debt and fiscal deficits have already resulted in lower or negative GDP growth and high unemployment rates in these countries. If the fiscal obligations of these or other countries continue to exceed their respective fiscal revenues, taking into account the reactions of the credit and swap markets, or if the banking systems of these jurisdictions destabilize, the ability of such countries to service their debt in a cost efficient manner could be impaired. We operate in many countries which are likely to be affected by these developments. The continued uncertainty over the outcome of various international financial support programs, the possibility that other countries might experience similar financial pressures, investor concerns about inadequate liquidity or unfavorable volatility in the capital and foreign exchange markets, lower consumer spending, higher inflation or political instability could further disrupt the global financial markets and might adversely affect the economy in general. In addition, the risk remains that a default of one or more countries in the Eurozone, the extent and precise nature of which are impossible to predict, could lead to the expulsion or voluntary withdrawal of one or more countries from the Eurozone or a disorderly break-up of the Eurozone, either of which could significantly disrupt financial markets and possibly trigger another global recession. Such events may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

We may be able to incur substantially more debt, including secured debt, which could further exacerbate the risks associated with our substantial level of indebtedness

We may incur substantial additional indebtedness in the future, including secured debt. If new debt is added to our current debt levels, the related risks that we face would increase, and we may not be able to meet all of our debt obligations.

Risk rating: Low.

Our operations could be subject to natural disasters and other business disruptions, which could adversely impact our future income and financial condition and increase our costs and expenses

Our services and operations are vulnerable to damage or interruption from tornadoes, earthquakes, fires, floods, power losses, telecommunications failures, terrorist attacks, acts of war, human errors and similar events. A significant natural disaster, such as a tornado, earthquake, fire or flood, could have a material adverse impact on our ability to conduct business, and our insurance coverage may be insufficient to compensate for losses that may occur. Although we have clear understanding of actions necessary to be taken in case of disaster to recover IT part, acts of terrorism, war, civil unrest, violence or human error could cause disruptions to our business or the economy as a whole. Any of these events could cause consumer confidence to decrease, which could decrease the number of loans we make to customers. Any of these occurrences may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Significant, rapid or unforeseen economic or political changes in the economies in which we operate could reduce demand for our products and services and result in reduced income

We operate in a variety of markets in Europe and the Balkans, so-called emerging markets, such as Albania, Bulgaria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Moldova and North Macedonia. We are considering expanding our business into other new markets should opportunities present themselves. In recent years, certain of the emerging markets where we operate have undergone substantial political, economic and social change. As is typical of emerging or transitioning markets, they do not possess the full business, legal and regulatory infrastructures that would generally exist in more mature, free market economies, and the business, legal and regulatory infrastructures in these jurisdictions are continuously evolving. See also "Our business is highly regulated, and if we fail to comply with existing or newly introduced applicable laws, regulations, rules and guidance, we may be subject to fines or penalties, have to exit certain markets or be restricted from carrying out certain operations." In addition, the tax and currency legislation in the markets in which we operate are subject to varying interpretations and changes, which can occur frequently. Any disruption of the reform policies and recurrence of political or governmental instability may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

If either our controlling shareholder or one of our ultimate beneficial owners were to become the subject of sanctions, this could have a material adverse effect on our business, including our reputation, and depending on the nature of the sanctions, on our ability (including the ability of the Guarantors) to make payments on the Bonds. Any significant changes in, or a deterioration of, the political or economic environment in regions where we currently operate or will operate in the future could lead to political and economic instability, which may have an adverse effect on investor and consumer confidence and affect consumers' ability to repay loans and accrued interest. Should the ability of our customers to repay loans and accrued interest be affected, this could restrict our ability to sustain or expand our operations in these countries and could therefore adversely and materially affect our cash flow, liquidity and working capital position. If such a situation were to occur, we may be required to seek additional capital. There is no guarantee that we would be successful in raising additional capital, or that we will be able to do so on a timely basis or on terms which are acceptable to us. If significant political or economic deterioration were to continue, we could face a liquidity shortage, which may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

The future economic direction of the markets in which we operate remains largely dependent upon the effectiveness of economic, financial and monetary measures undertaken by their respective governments, together with tax, legal, regulatory, and political developments. Our failure to manage the risks associated with our operations in emerging markets may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

c. Legal and regulatory risk

Failure to comply with anti-corruption laws, including anti-bribery laws, could have an adverse effect on our reputation and business

While we are committed to doing business in accordance with applicable anti-corruption and anti-bribery laws, we face the risk that any of our operating subsidiaries or their respective officers, directors, employees, agents or business partners may, despite the fact that we do not tolerate or accept any such behavior, take actions or have interactions with persons that violate such anti-corruption laws, or face allegations that they have violated such laws.

Certain countries where we operate pose risks of corruption violations. According to the 2018 Transparency International Corruption Perceptions Index, which evaluates data on corruption in countries throughout the world by ranking countries from 1 (least corrupt) to 180 (most corrupt), key markets for the Group in terms of assets, growth and profitability like Albania, Bosnia Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Moldova and North Macedonia were ranked 99, 89, 77, 117 and 93 respectively.

While we closely monitor any signs of potential breaches of the law, the effects of corruption on our operations are difficult to predict. However, under certain circumstances, corruption, particularly where it heightens regulatory uncertainty or leads to regulatory changes adverse to our operations or to liability on our part or on the part of our directors or business partners, despite the fact that we do not tolerate or accept any corruption and we intend to comply at any time with all applicable rules and regulations, may result in penalties and sanctions, which may have a material adverse effect on our reputation, business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Medium.

The legal and judicial systems in some of our markets of operation are less developed than western European countries

The legal and judicial systems in some of the markets in which we operate are less developed than those of western European countries. Commercial, competition, securities, anti-bribery, personal data protection, company and bankruptcy law (as well as other areas of law) in such countries may be unfamiliar to local judges. Related legal provisions in these jurisdictions have been and continue to be subject to ongoing, and at times unpredictable, changes. Existing laws and regulations in our countries of operation may be applied inconsistently or may be interpreted in a manner that is restrictive and non-commercial. Furthermore, it may not be possible, in certain circumstances, to obtain legal remedies in a timely manner in these countries. The relatively limited experience of a significant number of judges or other legal officials practicing in these markets, specifically with regard to capital markets issues, and questions regarding the independence of the judiciary system in such markets may lead to decisions based on considerations that are not grounded in the law. The enforcement of judgments may also prove difficult, which means that the enforcement of rights through the respective court systems may be laborious, especially where such judgments may lead to business closures or job losses. This lack of legal certainty may adversely affect our business, and may also make it difficult for you to address any claims you may have as an investor.

Risk rating: Medium.

Our business is highly regulated, and if we fail to comply with existing or newly introduced applicable laws, regulations, rules and guidance, we may be subject to fines, penalties or limitations, have to exit certain markets or be restricted from carrying out certain operations

Our operations are subject to regulation by a variety of consumer protection, financial services and other state authorities in various jurisdictions, including, but not limited to, laws and regulations relating to consumer loans and consumer rights protection, debt collection and personal data processing. See “Regulatory Framework.” National and international regulations, as well as plaintiff bars, the media and consumer advocacy groups, have subjected our industry to intense scrutiny in recent years. Failure to comply with existing laws and regulations applicable to our operations, or to obtain and comply with all authorizations and permits required for our operations, or adverse findings of governmental inspections, may result in the imposition of material fines or penalties or more severe sanctions, including preventing us from continuing substantial parts of our business activities, suspension or revocation of our licenses, or in criminal penalties being imposed on our officers.

In several of the jurisdictions where we operate, we also face risks related to the acquisition of licenses to conduct consumer lending services. We are dependent on the authorities to grant us such required licenses, and in some jurisdictions the licenses are subject to renewal procedures. See “Regulatory Framework.” If we fail to comply with the laws and regulations applicable to our business, it may result in us not being able to renew our consumer lending license in one or several jurisdictions. Local regulators may also suspend existing licenses temporarily or revoke them permanently.

Governments may seek to impose new laws, regulatory restrictions or licensing requirements that affect the products or services we offer, the terms on which we offer them, and the disclosure, compliance and reporting obligations we must fulfill in connection with our business. They may also interpret or enforce existing requirements in new ways that could restrict our ability to continue our current methods of operation, including the development of our scoring models, or to expand operations or impose significant additional compliance costs on us. In some cases these measures could even directly limit or prohibit some or all of our current business activities in certain jurisdictions, or render them unprofitable and/or impractical to continue. In addition, they could require us to refund interest and result in a determination that certain loans are not collectable and could cause damage to our brand and our valued customer relationships.

Risk rating: Medium.

Our business is subject to complex and evolving laws and regulations regarding privacy, data protection, and other matters

Our business is subject to a variety of laws and regulations, both nationally and internationally, regarding offering financial services to consumers, anti-money laundering and counter terrorist financing, user privacy issues, including data protection, marketing, disclosures, distribution, electronic contracts and other communications and consumer protection. The introduction of new products or the expansion of our activities in certain jurisdictions may subject us to additional laws and regulations. In addition, the application and interpretation of these laws and regulations are often uncertain, particularly in the new and rapidly evolving e-commerce industry in which we operate, and may be interpreted and applied inconsistently from country to country and may also be inconsistent with our current or past policies and practices. Existing and proposed laws and regulations can be costly to comply with and can delay or impede the development of new products, the expansion into new markets, result in negative publicity, increase our operating costs, require significant management time and attention, and subject us to inquiries or investigations, claims or other remedies, including demands which may require us to modify or cease existing business practices and/or pay fines, penalties or other damages. This may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Although we continuously educate our employees on applicable laws and regulations in relation to privacy, data protection and other matters, we cannot guarantee that our employees will comply at all times with such laws and regulations. If our employees fail to comply with such laws and regulations in the future, we may become subject to fines or other penalties which may have a negative impact on our reputation and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

Failure to comply with anti-money laundering and counter terrorist financing laws could have an adverse effect on our reputation and business

We are subject to anti-money laundering and counter terrorist financing laws and related compliance obligations in all of the jurisdictions in which we do business. We have put in place an anti-money laundering and counter terrorist financing (“AML/CTF”) policy and procedures for the Group (including employee trainings) which we apply in all of our countries of operation. However, these policies may not prevent all possible breaches of law. Although company directors in each jurisdiction are responsible for AML/CTF implementations and compliance with relevant local requirements, we have also set up automated systems on a Group level to ensure that we are not used as a means for money laundering or terrorist financing. As a financial institution, we are required to comply with AML/CTF regulations that, depending on the jurisdiction, may be less restrictive than those that apply to banks. As a result, we may get additional comfort of the anti-money laundering checks performed by our customers’ banks when such customers open new bank accounts. If we are not in compliance with relevant AML/CTF laws (including as a result of relying on deficient checks carried out by our customers’ banks), we may be subject to criminal and civil penalties and other remedial measures such as cessation of business or license revocation. Any penalties, remedial measures or investigations into any potential violations of anti-money laundering laws could harm our reputation and may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

We may be adversely affected by contractual claims, complaints, litigation and negative publicity

We may be adversely affected by contractual claims, complaints and litigation, resulting from relationships with counterparties, customers, competitors or regulatory authorities, as well as by any adverse publicity that we may attract. Any such litigation, complaints, contractual claims, or adverse publicity may have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Defense of any lawsuit, even if successful, could require substantial time and attention of our management and could require the expenditure of significant amounts for legal fees and other related costs. We are also subject to regulatory proceedings, and we could suffer losses from the interpretation of applicable laws, rules and regulations in regulatory proceedings, including regulatory proceedings in which we are not a party. Any of these events could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition, results of operations, prospects or cash flows.

Risk rating: Low.

The transposition of the Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive in Luxembourg law could have an impact on our tax position (including our performance)

As part of its anti-tax avoidance package, the EU Commission published a draft Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive on 28 January 2016, which was formally adopted by the EC Council on 12 July 2016 in Council Directive (EU) 2016/1164 (the “ATAD 1”).

In this respect, the Luxembourg law dated 21 December 2018 (the “ATAD 1 Law”) transposed the ATAD 1 into Luxembourg legislation. The ATAD 1 Law may have an impact on the tax position of the Issuer (including on its performance). Amongst the measures contained in the ATAD 1 Law is an interest deductibility limitation rule.

The interest deduction limitation rule set out by ATAD 1 has been implemented in article 168bis of the Luxembourg income tax law (“LITL”) effective as of 1 January 2019, which restrict, for a Luxembourg taxpayer (such as the Issuer), the deduction of net interest expenses qualifying as “excess borrowing costs” to the higher of (i) 30 per cent. of the taxpayer’s EBITDA (defined as the taxpayer’s total net income increased by the amount of its excess borrowing costs, depreciation and amortisation), and (ii) €3 million.

Excess borrowing costs are defined as the amount by which the deductible borrowing costs of a taxpayer exceeds the taxpayer’s taxable interest revenues and other economically equivalent taxable income of the taxpayer. Excess borrowing costs not deductible in a tax period can be carried forward indefinitely. The same applies to a taxpayer’s excess interest capacity which cannot be used in a given tax period (however, such excess interest capacity can only be carried forward for a maximum period of 5 years).

If ATAD 1 should result in the refusal of the tax deductibility of a portion of the interest accrued or paid under the Bonds, the tax position as well as the performance of the Issuer could be impacted due to the potential increase of its taxable basis.

d. Internal control risk

The interests of our beneficial owners may conflict with those of the Holders

The Group is ultimately controlled by several individuals (see “Information about the Group – Beneficial ownership”). These individuals have and will continue to have the power to affect the legal and capital structure and the day-to-day operations of the Group, as well as the ability to elect and change the management team and approve other changes to the Group’s operations. The interests of the ultimate beneficial owners may, in some circumstances, conflict with the interests of the Holders, particularly if the Group encounters financial difficulties or if we are unable to pay our debts as they become due. The ultimate beneficial owners could also have an interest in pursuing financings or other transactions which, in their judgment, could enhance their equity investment, although such transactions might increase the Group's indebtedness, require the Group to sell assets or otherwise impair our ability to make payments under the Bonds. Any potential conflict between the interests of the indirect controlling shareholder or the ultimate beneficial owners, on the one hand, and Holders, on the other hand, may have a material adverse effect on the value of the Bonds.

Risk rating: Low.

2. RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE BONDS; THE TRANSACTION SECURITIES; THE GUARANTEES AND THE SECURITY AGENT AGREEMENT

a. Risks related to the nature of the Bonds

We may not be able to generate sufficient cash to service all of our indebtedness, including the Bonds, and may be forced to take other actions to satisfy our obligations under our debt agreements, which may not be successful.

Our ability to make scheduled payments on or refinance our debt obligations depends on our financial condition and operating performance, which is subject to prevailing economic and competitive conditions and to certain financial, business and other factors beyond our control. We may not be able to maintain a level of cash flows from operating activities sufficient to permit us to pay the principal, premium, if any, and interest and additional amounts, if any, on our indebtedness, including the borrowings under the Bonds offered hereby.

If our cash flows and capital resources are insufficient to fund our debt service obligations, we may be forced to reduce or delay investments and capital expenditures, or to sell assets, seek additional capital or restructure or refinance our indebtedness, including our indebtedness under the Bonds offered hereby. Our ability to restructure or refinance our debt will depend on the condition of the capital markets and our financial condition at such time. Any refinancing of our debt could be at higher interest rates and may require us to comply with more onerous borrowing covenants, which could further restrict our business operations. The terms of existing or future debt instruments may restrict us from adopting some of these alternatives. These alternative measures may not be successful and may not permit us to meet our scheduled debt service obligations. In addition, any failure to make payments of interest and principal on our outstanding indebtedness on a timely basis would likely result in a reduction of our credit rating, which could harm our ability to incur additional indebtedness.

If we cannot make scheduled payments on our debt:

- the holders of our debt could declare all outstanding principal and interest to be due and payable;
- the holders of our secured debt, to the extent we have any, could commence foreclosure proceedings against our assets;
- we could be forced into bankruptcy or liquidation; and
- you could lose all or part of your investment in the Bonds.

Risk rating: Medium.

We may be unable to repay or repurchase the Bonds at maturity

At maturity, the entire principal amount of the Bonds, together with accrued and unpaid interest, will become due and payable. We may not have the ability to repay or refinance these obligations. If the maturity date occurs at a time when other arrangements prohibit us from repaying the Bonds, we could try to obtain waivers of such prohibitions from the lenders and holders under those arrangements, or we could attempt to refinance the borrowings that contain the restrictions. If we fail to obtain the waivers or refinance these borrowings, we would be unable to repay the Bonds.

Risk rating: Medium.

Relevant insolvency and administrative laws may not be as favorable to creditors, including Holders, as insolvency laws of the jurisdictions in which you are familiar and may limit your ability to enforce your rights under the Bonds and the Guarantees and the Issuer and the Guarantors are subject to risks relating to the location of their center of main interest ("COMI")

The Issuer is incorporated in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and the Guarantors are incorporated or organized in Albania, Bosnia Herzegovina and Estonia. Some of our subsidiaries may be in the future incorporated or organized in jurisdictions other than those listed above and are subject to the insolvency laws of such jurisdictions. The insolvency laws of these jurisdictions may not be as favorable to your interests as creditors as the bankruptcy laws of certain other jurisdictions and your ability to receive payment under the Bonds may be more limited than would be the case under such bankruptcy laws. See "Limitations on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees, Transaction Security Documents and the Bonds and Certain Insolvency Considerations."

In addition, there can be no assurance as to how the insolvency laws of these jurisdictions will be applied in relation to one another. In the event that the Issuer, any of the Guarantors or any other of our subsidiaries experienced financial difficulty, it is not possible to predict with certainty in which jurisdiction or jurisdictions insolvency or similar proceedings would be commenced or the outcome of such proceedings. Under the Regulation (EU) No 2015/848 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 20 May 2015 on insolvency proceedings, as amended (the "EU Insolvency Regulation"), the "main" insolvency proceedings in respect of a debtor should be opened in the EU Member State in which its COMI is located. See "Limitations on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees, Transaction Security Documents and the Bonds and Certain Insolvency Considerations." There is a presumption in the EU Insolvency Regulation that a company's COMI is in the EU Member State in which its registered office is located; however, this presumption may be rebutted by certain factors relating in particular to where the company's central administration is located. In addition, the concept of a company's COMI is a fluid and factual concept that may change. Although the Issuer's registered office is in Luxembourg, a COMI may be found to exist outside Luxembourg, and insolvency laws of another jurisdiction may become relevant. The insolvency and other laws of different jurisdictions may be materially different from, or in conflict with, each other, including in the areas of rights of secured and other creditors, the ability to void preferences, transactions at an undervalue and transactions defrauding creditors, priority of governmental and other creditors, ability to obtain or claim interest following the commencement of insolvency proceedings and the duration of the proceedings. The application of these laws, or any conflict among them, could call into question whether any particular jurisdiction's laws should apply, adversely affect your ability to enforce your rights under the Bonds or the Guarantees in these jurisdictions and limit any amounts that you may receive. Prospective investors in the Bonds should consult their own legal advisors with respect to such considerations.

Risk rating: Medium.

Investors may face foreign exchange risks by investing in the Bonds

The Bonds will be denominated and payable in EUR. If investors measure their investment returns by reference to a currency other than EUR, an investment in the Bonds will entail foreign exchange-related risks due to, among other factors, possible significant changes in the value of the EUR relative to the currency by reference to which investors measure the return on their investments because of economic, political and other factors over which we have no control. Depreciation of the EUR against the currency by reference to which investors measure the return on their investments could cause a decrease in the effective yield of the relevant Bonds below their stated coupon rates and could result in a loss to investors when the return on such Bonds is translated into the currency by reference to which the investors measure the return on their investments.

Risk rating: Medium.

We may choose to repurchase or redeem the Bonds when prevailing interest rates are relatively low, including in open market purchases

We may seek to repurchase or redeem the Bonds from time to time under a call option right provided under the Terms and Conditions, especially when prevailing interest rates are lower than the rate borne by such Bonds. If prevailing rates are lower at the time of redemption, you may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a comparable security at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on such Bonds being redeemed. Our redemption right also may adversely impact your ability to sell such Bonds.

We may also from time to time repurchase the Bonds in the open market, privately negotiated transactions, tender offers or otherwise. Any such repurchases or redemptions and the timing and amount thereof would depend on prevailing market conditions, liquidity requirements, contractual restrictions and other factors. Such transactions could impact the market for such Bonds and negatively affect our liquidity.

Risk rating: Low.

The Issuer is a company that has no income generating operations of its own and depends on cash from our operating companies to be able to make payments on the Bonds

The Issuer's only business operations consist of providing financing to the Group companies with no business operations. See "Information about the Issuer" and "Information about the Group and the Guarantors". The Issuer will be dependent upon the cash flow from our operating subsidiaries in the form of interest income, direct loan repayment, dividends or other distributions or payments to meet their obligations, including the Issuer's obligations under the Bonds or other indebtedness incurred to fund its equity interests and other financial assets. The amounts of interest income, dividends or other distributions or payments available to the Issuer will depend on the profitability and cash flows of our subsidiaries and the ability of those subsidiaries to issue dividends and make distributions and other payments under applicable law. Our subsidiaries, however, may not be able to, or may not be permitted under applicable law to, make interest payments, loan principal repayments, dividends, distributions or other payments to the Issuer to make payments in respect of their indebtedness, including the Bonds. In addition, our subsidiaries that do not guarantee the Bonds have no obligation to make payments with respect to the Bonds.

Risk rating: Low.

The Bonds will be structurally subordinated to all indebtedness of those of our existing or future subsidiaries that are not, or do not become, Guarantors of the Bonds

The Bonds are initially guaranteed only by some of Holdco's subsidiaries. Claims of holders of the Bonds will be structurally subordinated to all indebtedness and the claims of creditors of any non-guarantor subsidiaries, including trade creditors. All indebtedness and obligations of any non-guarantor subsidiaries will have to be satisfied before any of the assets of such subsidiaries would be available for distribution upon liquidation or otherwise to us or to a Guarantor of the Bonds.

Risk rating: Low.

An increase in interest rates could result in a decrease in the relative value of the Bonds

In general, as market interest rates rise, Bonds bearing interest at a fixed rate generally decline in value because the premium, if any, over market interest rates will decline. Consequently, if you purchase these Bonds and market interest rates increase, the market value of your Bonds may decline. We cannot predict future levels of market interest rates.

Risk rating: Low.

Payments on the Bonds may be subject to U.S. withholding tax under the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act.

Pursuant to certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 and the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, commonly known as "FATCA", a "foreign financial institution" may be required to withhold a 30% withholding tax on certain payments it makes ("foreign passthru payments") to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting, or related requirements. A number of jurisdictions (including Luxembourg) have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA ("IGAs"), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Certain aspects of the application of the FATCA provisions and IGAs to instruments such as the Bonds, including whether withholding would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Bonds, are uncertain and may be subject to change. Even if withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Bonds, such withholding would not apply prior to 1 January 2019 (intended date) and Bonds issued on or prior to the date that is six months after the date on which final regulations defining "foreign passthru payments" are filed with the U.S. Federal Register generally would be "grandfathered" for purposes of FATCA withholding unless materially modified after such date (including by reason of a substitution of the Issuer). As long as the rules for the implementation and the definition of "foreign passthru payments" are not written, it is impossible to determine what impact, if any, this withholding will have on Holder of the Bonds. In the event any withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on the Bonds, Holders will not receive any Additional Amount in respect of such withholding, and Holders will therefore receive less than the amount that they would otherwise have received on such Bonds. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding how these rules may apply to their investment in the Bonds.

Risks related to the Common Reporting Standard

The common reporting standard framework was first released by the OECD in February 2014 as a result of the G20 members endorsing a global model of automatic exchange of information in order to increase international tax transparency. On 21 July 2014, the Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information in Tax Matters was published by the OECD, including the Common Reporting Standard (“CRS”). As of 12 May 2016 and per the status issued by the OECD on 19 August 2016, 84 jurisdictions, including Luxembourg, signed the multilateral competent authority agreement, which is a multilateral framework agreement to automatically exchange financial and personal information, with the subsequent bilateral exchanges coming into effect between those signatories that file the subsequent notifications. More than 40 jurisdictions, including Luxembourg, have committed to a specific and ambitious timetable leading to the first automatic exchanges in 2017 (early adopters). Under CRS, financial institutions resident in a CRS country would be required to report, according to a due diligence standard, account balance or value, income from certain insurance products, sales proceeds from financial assets and other income generated with respect to assets held in the account or payments made with respect to the account. Reportable accounts include accounts held by individuals and entities (which include trusts and foundations) with tax residency in another CRS country. CRS includes a requirement to look through passive entities to report on the relevant controlling persons.

As of 1 January 2016, CRS and EU Council Directive 2014/107/EU have been implemented in Luxembourg law (by the Luxembourg law dated 18 December 2015 on the Common Reporting Standard (loi relative à l'échange automatique de renseignements relatifs aux comptes financiers en matière fiscale)). As a result, the Issuer is required to comply with identification obligations starting in 2016, with reporting having begun in 2017. Holders of Bonds may be required to provide additional information to the Issuer to enable it to satisfy its identification obligations under the Luxembourg implementation of the CRS. Prospective investors are advised to seek their own professional advice in relation to the CRS and EU Council Directive 2014/107/EU. Not complying with the CRS rules may be sanctioned by fines imposed upon the Issuer. Furthermore, it cannot be ruled out that as a sanction against failure to comply with the CRS rules, a withholding tax will be introduced similar to the withholding tax imposed for non-compliance with FATCA regulations.

Risk rating: Low.

There is no established trading market for the Bonds. If an actual trading market does not develop for the Bonds, you may not be able to resell them quickly, for the price that you paid or at all

The Bonds will constitute a new issue of securities and there is no established trading market for the Bonds. If an active trading market does not develop or is not sustained, the market price and liquidity of the Bonds may be adversely affected and you may be unable to resell your Bonds at a particular time, at their fair market value or at all.

If a trading market does develop, the market price of the Bonds will depend on many factors, including:

- the market demand for securities similar to the Bonds and the interest of securities dealers in making a market for the Bonds;
- the number of holders of the Bonds;
- the prevailing interest rates being paid by other companies similar to us;

- our financial condition, financial performance and future prospects;
- the market price of our common stock;
- the prospects for companies in our industry generally; and
- the overall condition of the financial markets.

Historically, the market for non-investment grade debt has been subject to disruptions that have caused volatility in prices of securities similar to the Bonds. It is possible that the market for the Bonds will be subject to such disruptions. Any disruptions may have a negative effect on holders, regardless of our prospects and financial performance.

Risk rating: Low.

The transfer of the Bonds is restricted, which may adversely affect their liquidity and the price at which they may be sold

The Bonds and the Guarantees have not been registered under, and we are not obliged to register the Bonds or the Guarantees under, the U.S. Securities Act or the securities laws of any other jurisdiction and, unless so registered, may not be offered or sold except pursuant to an exemption from, or a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act or such securities laws as applicable. We have not agreed to or otherwise undertaken to register the Bonds or the Guarantees, and do not have any intention to do so.

Risk rating: Low.

b. Risks related to the Transaction Securities, the Guarantees and the Security Agent Agreement

The Security created under the Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees may not be sufficient to cover all the Secured Obligations and the enforcement of the security may be delayed or the security may not be enforceable at all

There is no assurance that the Security created under the Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees, benefiting the holders of the Bonds and the holders of the Existing Bonds, will be sufficient to cover all the Secured Obligations and, therefore, all the Issuer's payment obligations under the Bonds may not be secured, if at all.

The receivables of the holders of the Bonds rank pari passu with the receivables of the other secured creditors, including but not limited to the receivables of the holders of the Existing Bonds, except for certain liabilities owed to the Security Agent and certain enforcement costs of the secured creditors, which have priority to the enforcement proceeds of the Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees. The Issuer cannot assure that the proceeds of any enforcement of the Transaction Security Documents would be sufficient to satisfy all amounts then owed to the Holders. In addition, any enforcement may be delayed due to any inability to sell the security assets in a timely and efficient manner. For more information on the Security Agent Agreement, please see "Additional Information on the Guarantees, the Transaction Security Documents and the Security Agent Agreement".

Risk rating: Medium.

Enforcement of the Guarantees across multiple jurisdictions may be difficult

The Bonds will be guaranteed by the initial and any additional Guarantors, which are organized or incorporated under the laws of multiple jurisdictions. In the event of a bankruptcy, insolvency or similar event, proceedings could be initiated in any of these jurisdictions. The rights of holders of the Bonds under the Guarantees will thus be subject to the laws of a number of jurisdictions, and it may be difficult to enforce such rights in multiple bankruptcy, insolvency and other similar proceedings. Moreover, such multi-jurisdictional proceedings are typically complex and costly for creditors' rights. In addition, the bankruptcy, insolvency, administration and other laws of the jurisdiction of organization of the Issuer or the Guarantors may be materially different from, or in conflict with, one another, including creditor's rights, priority of creditors, the ability to obtain post-petition interest and the duration of the insolvency proceeding. The application of these various laws in multiple jurisdictions could trigger disputes over which jurisdictions' law should apply and could adversely affect the ability to realize any recovery under the Bonds and the Guarantees.

Risk rating: Medium.

There are risks related to the Security Agent Agreement

The holders of the Bonds and the other secured creditors are represented by the Security Agent in all matters relating to the Transaction Security Documents. There is a risk that the Security Agent, or anyone appointed by it, does not properly fulfil its obligations in terms of perfecting, maintaining, enforcing or taking other necessary actions in relation to the Transaction Security Documents.

Subject to the terms of the Security Agent Agreement, the Security Agent is entitled to enter into agreements with the Issuer or a third party or take any other actions necessary for the purpose of maintaining, releasing or enforcing the Security created under any of the Transaction Security Documents or for the purpose of settling, among others, the holders of the Bonds rights to the security. Although there is a limitation that such actions shall not be taken if the Security Agent deems the action to be detrimental to the interests of the holders of the Bonds, it cannot be guaranteed that actions would not be taken that may be considered to be detrimental in the view of some or all of the holders of the Bonds.

Risk rating: Medium.

The Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees will be subject to certain limitations on enforcement and may be limited by applicable law or subject to certain defenses that may limit their validity and enforceability

The Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees provide the Security Agent, acting for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds, with a claim against the relevant Security Provider. However, the Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees will be limited to the maximum amount that can be guaranteed by the relevant Security Provider without rendering the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees voidable or otherwise ineffective under applicable law, and enforcement of each Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees would be subject to certain generally available defenses. See "Limitations on Validity and Enforceability of the Guarantees, Transaction Security Documents and the Bonds and Certain Insolvency Considerations."

Enforcement of any of the Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees against any Security Provider will be subject to certain defenses available to Security Providers in the relevant jurisdiction. Although laws differ among these jurisdictions, these laws and defenses generally include those that relate to corporate purpose or benefit, fraudulent conveyance or transfer, voidable preference, insolvency or bankruptcy challenges, financial assistance, preservation of share capital, thin capitalization, capital maintenance or similar laws, regulations or defenses affecting the rights of creditors generally. If one or more of these laws and defenses are applicable, a Security Provider may have no liability or decreased liability under its Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees depending on the amounts of its other obligations and applicable law.

Although laws differ among various jurisdictions, in general, under bankruptcy or insolvency law and other laws, a court could (i) avoid or invalidate all or a portion of a Security Provider's obligations under its Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees, (ii) direct that the holders of the Bonds return any amounts paid under a Transaction Security Documents and the Guarantees to the relevant Security Provider or to a fund for the benefit of the Security Provider's creditors or (iii) take other action that is detrimental to you, typically if the court found that:

- the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees was incurred with actual intent to give preference to one creditor over another, hinder, delay or defraud creditors or shareholders of the Security Provider or, in certain jurisdictions, when the granting of the Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees has the effect of giving a creditor a preference or guarantee or the creditor was aware that the Security Provider was insolvent when the relevant Transaction Security Documents or Guarantees given;
- the Security Provider did not receive fair consideration or reasonably equivalent value or corporate benefit for the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees and the Security Provider: (i) was insolvent or rendered insolvent because of the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees; (ii) was undercapitalized or became undercapitalized because of the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees; or (iii) intended to incur, or believed that it would incur, indebtedness beyond its ability to pay at maturity;
- the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees were held to exceed the corporate objects of the Security Provider or not to be in the best interests of or for the corporate benefit of the Security Provider; or
- the amount paid or payable under the relevant Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees was in excess of the maximum amount permitted under applicable law.

We cannot assure you which standard a court would apply in determining whether a Security Provider was "insolvent" at the relevant time. There can also be no assurance that a court would not determine that a Security Provider was insolvent on that date, or that a court would not determine, regardless of whether or not a Security Provider was insolvent on the date its Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees were issued, that payments to holders of the Bonds constituted preferences, fraudulent transfers or conveyances on other grounds. The liability of each Security Provider under its Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees will be limited to the amount that will result in such Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees not constituting a preference, fraudulent conveyance or improper corporate distribution or otherwise being set aside. However, there can be no assurance as to what standard a court will apply in making a determination of the maximum liability of each Security Provider. There is a possibility that the entire Transaction Security Documents or Guarantees may be set aside, in which case the entire liability may be extinguished. If a court decided that a Transaction Security Documents or Guarantees was a preference, fraudulent transfer or conveyance and voided such Transaction Security Documents or Guarantees, or held it unenforceable for any other reason, the Security Agent may cease to have any claim in respect of the relevant Security Provider and would be a creditor solely of the Issuer and, if applicable, of any other Security Provider under the relevant Transaction Security Documents or Guarantees which has not been declared void. In the event that any Transaction Security

Documents or Guarantees is invalid or unenforceable, in whole or in part, or to the extent the agreed limitation of the Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees obligations apply, the Bonds would be effectively subordinated to all liabilities of the applicable Security Provider.

Risk rating: Medium.

Rights in the Transaction Security Documents may be adversely affected by the failure to perfect it

According to the law applicable to the Transaction Security Documents Documents a security interest in certain assets can only be properly perfected and its priority retained through certain actions undertaken by the secured creditor or the security provider. The Transaction Security Documents may not be perfected if the Security Agent or the relevant security provider is not able to or does not take the actions necessary to perfect or maintain the perfection of any such security. Such failure may result in the ineffectiveness of the relevant Transaction Security Documents or adversely affect the priority of such security interest in favor of third parties, including a bankruptcy administrator and other creditors who claim a security interest in the same Transaction Security Documents .

In relation to certain classes of security assets, the terms of the Transaction Security Documents documents require the perfection action to be carried out only upon the occurrence of a trigger event. A failure by the Security Agent to react to the trigger event may cause the security to be unperfected, and the occurrence of the triggering event and due perfection of the security during a suspect period before the insolvency of the security provider may expose the security to recovery.

Risk rating: Low.

The enforcement of the Guarantees and the Transaction Security Documents will be subject to the procedures and limitations set out in the Security Agent Agreement

Even when the Transaction Security Documents are enforceable, the enforcement is subject to the procedures and limitations agreed in the Security Agent Agreement and the Terms and Conditions. There can be no assurance as to the ability of the holders of the Bonds to instruct the Security Agent to initiate any enforcement procedures. Furthermore, any enforcement of security may be delayed due to the provisions of the Security Agent Agreement and the Terms and Conditions.

Risk rating: Low.

The Security Agent Agreement and the Transaction Security Documents may be amended without the consent of the holders of the Bonds

The Terms and Conditions provide for the Agent to agree to amendments and grant waivers and consents and give written instructions in respect of the Security Agent Agreement and the Transaction Security Documents without consulting the holders of the Bonds provided that in the opinion of the Issuer and the Agent, such amendments or waivers are of a formal, minor or technical nature or are made to correct a manifest or proven error or to comply with mandatory provisions of law and which are in the opinion of the Issuer and the Agent not materially prejudicial to the interests of the holders of the Bonds. Any of the before-mentioned actions may result in less beneficial rights and more cumbersome obligations for the holders of the Bonds under the Transaction Security Documents.

Risk rating: Low.

The rights of the holders of the Bonds depend on the Agent's and Security Agent's actions and financial standing

By subscribing for, or accepting the assignment of, any Bond, each holder of a Bond will accept the appointment of the Agent (being on the date of this Prospectus Greenmarck Restructuring Solutions GmbH) to act on its behalf and to perform administrative functions relating to the Bonds and the Finance Documents. In addition, pursuant to the Security Agent Agreement, the Security Agent has been appointed as the agent and representative of the Secured Creditors, to represent and act for such secured creditors, i.e., the holders of the Bonds, in relation to the Transaction Security Documents.

The Agent has, among other things, the right to represent the holders of the Bonds in all court and administrative proceedings in respect of the Bonds and the sole right and legal authority to represent the holders of the Bonds vis-à-vis the Security Agent. Only the Security Agent is entitled to exercise the rights under the Transaction Security Documents and enforce the same. Any failure by an agent to perform its duties and obligations properly, or at all, may adversely affect the enforcement of the rights of the holders of the Bonds due to, for example, inability to enforce the security and/or receive any or all amounts payable from the security in a timely and effective manner.

A failure by the Agent to perform its duties and obligations properly or at all may adversely affect the enforcement of the rights of the holders of the Bonds. Funds collected by the Agent as the representative of the holders of the Bonds must be held separately from the funds of the Agent and be treated as escrow funds to ensure that in the event of the Agent's bankruptcy, such funds can be separated for the benefit of the holders of the Bonds. In the event the Agent would fail to separate the funds in an appropriate manner, the funds could be included in the Agent's bankruptcy estate.

The Agent may be replaced by a successor Agent in accordance with the Terms and Conditions. Generally, the successor Agent has the same rights and obligations as the retired Agent. It may be difficult to find a successor Agent with commercially acceptable terms or at all. Further, it cannot be excluded that the successor Agent would not breach its obligations under the above documents or that insolvency proceedings would not be initiated against it.

Materialization of any of the above risks may have a material adverse effect on the enforcement of the rights of the holders of the Bonds and the rights of the holders of the Bonds to receive payments under the Bonds.

Risk rating: Low.

We cannot exclude that the Guarantee granted under the Guarantee Agreement may be reclassified as a suretyship by a Luxembourg court

While the Guarantee provided under the Guarantee Agreement is structured as a first demand independent guarantee and it explicitly states that it is not a suretyship (cautionnement) we cannot exclude that such Guarantee could, if submitted to a Luxembourg court, possibly be construed by such court as a suretyship (cautionnement) and not a first demand guarantee or an independent guarantee. Article 2012 of the Luxembourg Civil Code provides that the validity and the enforceability of a suretyship (which constitutes an accessory obligation) is subject to the validity of the underlying obligation. It follows that if the underlying obligations were invalid or challenged, it cannot be excluded that the Guarantors would be released from their liabilities under such Guarantee.

Risk rating: Low.

Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees may be released under certain circumstances

In addition to the authority for the Security Agent to release relevant part of the Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees and to discharge Secured Obligations and certain intra-group liabilities in order to facilitate enforcement of Transaction Security Documents or a distressed disposal or appropriation made in accordance with the Security Agent Agreement, the Security Agent Agreement provides that in connection with a disposal of an asset by a member of the Group permitted under the terms of the secured financing under non-distressed circumstances, the Security Agent is under the Security Agent Agreement authorized to release Transaction Security Documents over that asset and where the asset consists of shares in a Group company, Transaction Security Documents and Guarantees granted by such company. Such release will impair the security interest and the secured position of the holders of the Bonds.

The Terms and Conditions of the Bonds provide that the Agent shall in certain circumstances agreed therein, take actions necessary to release the Guarantees and Transaction Security Documents or part thereof.

After any such release, depending on the scope of the release, the holders of the Bonds may become unsecured and unguaranteed and loose priority in case of foreclosure, dissolution, winding-up, liquidation, recapitalization, administrative or other bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings of any member of the Group.

Risk rating: Low.

Insolvency administrator may not respect the Security Agent Agreement

It is not certain that a Secured Creditor or a bankruptcy administrator of such Secured Creditor or the Issuer would respect the Security Agent Agreement which potentially could adversely affect the other Secured Creditors.

Risk rating: Low.

Key Strengths

Sustainability and simplicity

luteCredit focuses on providing comfortable and secure lending to its customers. The products offered are designed to serve the needs and requirements of customers through detailed and safe creditworthiness checks via public databases (government institution databases, debt collection agencies, bank statement providers, Central Bank registries, and many others). Our process and procedures are based on simplicity and effectiveness. The average approval time for a loan application is usually 10 minutes with a minimum effort for a customer. Once approved and in the database, the process becomes even simpler and waiting time decreases. Offering immediate loan application and being the fastest and the most comfortable is what separates us from our competitors.

The proven effectiveness and strong experience gained in lending into unbanked and underbanked markets allows us to expand fast and apply best practices from existing into the new markets.

Transparent products

The loans we offer have a term from 1 to 60 months and the amount offered varies depending on the income, other financial obligations, the monthly payment requirements and the reliability of the customer. This implies that a customer can choose the amount needed, select the minimum monthly payment and choose the payment dates.

All of our products are available to our customers through online and offline channels such as our branches and partner's network, our website and our partner's the websites, Mylute mobile application and our call center. Regardless of the medium and their convenience, our products and way of work allows a customer to have a clear insight into terms and conditions, privacy policies, pricing, and repayment model, as well as regards any additional concern or question they may have and is related to rules and procedures, product specification and how the lending in general works.

Being always present and everywhere

We are available 24/7, either online, by mobile phone or in one of our offices during open hours. We strive to offer automated approval processes to our customers and expand our presence through partner/dealership network and cover as much territory as possible. Wherever our branch is not present we have our partners covering our customer's needs for smooth and fast application processing. We tend to be available 24/7. But if 24/7 is limited because of some of our partners (banks, shops, etc), then we process the application on the next working day. Partnership/dealer network is of high importance to us and cherishing this relationship brings an additional value to our customers. Through our network, we also offer specific type of loans for specific purchases such as electronics, used cars, house repair materials, furniture and different consumer services. By constantly improving our internal systems and aligning them with local regulations we try to make the process more and more automatized. As of 30 June 2021, we had a network consisting of 43 branches and more than 1,250 partner shops in 5 countries total – Albania, Moldova, North Macedonia, Bulgaria and Bosnia Herzegovina. We constantly try to onboard new partners and expand our network in order to offer and expand our services to as much customers as possible.

Experience for better competitiveness

luteCredit and the local team members come from different industries, mostly banking, finance and sales. The wealth of their background, experience and profiles enables us to think creatively and move forward by utilizing the best practices and know how's with the positive output by enabling us to be even more competitive in the market.

As a Group, we aim to serve millions of customers and that means constant strive to attract the best talent, implement the best technology, develop the best organization and bring the best out in each team member. Money is the outcome of right actions, but at foremost we as a team enjoy ourselves in pursuing the right actions and overcoming the challenges.

Trust leads to success

Customers are our focus. Our work and products are designed around the customers' needs. We are constantly improving, becoming faster and more reliable for our customers, partners and employees. With personalized approach, custom made products, valuing employees, contributing to the community, we tend to make a difference and create a positive impact in the society where we operate. We are trusted by more than 700,000 customers over the years. The amount of trust and good work that we do, is shown through a recent research conducted in the beginning of 2019, where we asked general population in countries of operations questions related to our visibility, trust, awareness, and creativity. We have also gained an insight how we rank with competition as well. Results obtained during this research show that the work we are doing and services we are providing are making significance to our customers.

In Moldova, where we have been operating for more than 10 years and in a highly competitive market, results show that, as of the beginning of 2020, awareness of the lute brand is 91% of the interviewed people; in Albania (more than 4 years of operations), result is 51%; in North Macedonia (more than 2 years of operations), result is 58% and in Bosnia and Herzegovina (operations from May 2019), total brand awareness result is 6%.

Sample of interviewed people has been conducted between 0.02%-0.05% of the total population in cities where we have our branches and established presence. Randomly selected people for the research purposes were taken out from all demographic segments, without necessarily being customers of luteCredit.

Customer Performance Index (CPI) is a unique index developed by luteCredit. CPI measures customers' actual repayments against the expected repayments according to the original repayment schedules of loan agreements within a tolerance period for repayment delays. It is a cashflow- and reality-centric indicator that avoids evergreening illusions or illusions that may arise from inadequate provisioning. Repayment within 30 days of delay (CPI30) is considered normal and a so called “technical delay”. CPI50+ (DPD 50+) is recognized by luteCredit as NPLs. For the six-month period ending on 30 June 2021, luteCredit reached a CPI30 ratio of 86.9% as the weighted average across products and markets.

Strategy

luteCredit’s strategy is to become the leading customer centric lending company that focuses on providing loans and credit to people in need of obtaining funds in a fast and comfortable way by using different channels, partners and providers for application processing and pay out of funds. Our main concentration of customers currently lies in Eastern and South Eastern European countries such as Moldova, Albania, North Macedonia, Bulgaria and Bosnia Herzegovina, with day to day support from the headquarters in Estonia.

The future of personal finance will be based on installments. That is, subscription and pay-as-you-go based economy will expand along with development of technology and regulatory frameworks. In history, the humankind has moved from long-term and big subscription based deals, such as mortgage, into smaller units, such as car leasing, and we see further movement towards smaller: to the effect where it is common to split the regular monthly income fully between various subscriptions. Some of those subscriptions can be credit repayments. The goal is to make subscriptions very easy, seamless part of everyday life and everyday consumption.

ICE is responsible for the strategic management of the Group including:

- Strategic targeting;
- organizational structure and manning of management teams;
- human resource and customer experience framework rules and targeting guidance;
- financial management framework rules and targeting guidance;
- sales and marketing framework rules and targeting guidance;
- service process design and technological development;
- risk management, including loan products approval and general compliance framework;
- data harvesting;
- the Group's financing and investor relations.

The Subsidiaries offer customers the services and develop the business on the local competition field according to strategic guidance, framework rules, finance and technology provided by ICE. The Subsidiaries have local teams, local customer pools, local loan portfolios and develop local investor relations and relations with regulatory authorities and partners.

ICM is in operation since August 2008, ICA since April 2015, ICNM since September 2017 and ICBH since May 2019. ICB became operational again starting from June 2021. The new subsidiary VP was registered in October 2020.

We as a Group are actively seeking new markets where to offer our services and we are constantly looking for ways how to be closer to our customers.

luteCredit’s mission is to offer the best experience to its customers in the field of personal finance. The customer’s daily needs are met in an easy and seamless way. Further, the provided services are also fast and comfortable. luteCredit also believes in human interaction. Robots and Fintech are helpful; however they are not the exclusive answer to the finance questions and issues that may be encountered by the customers. Besides the assistance of technologies, there is a necessity for human interaction to properly address the customer's needs: Nothing replaces the sincere human smile and attention.

HISTORY

luteCredit was founded in 2008 by a group of individuals for the purpose of, among others, providing flexible and convenient consumer financial services to customers.

luteCredit initiated operations in Moldova, Albania, North Macedonia and Kosovo, and from 2018, it initiated additional operations in Bulgaria and Bosnia and Herzegovina through the establishment of new start-up entities. See “—Group Structure—Legal Structure” below.

10. Presentation of Financial Information

The financial information with respect to the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of financial position and the consolidated statement of cash flows set forth herein, has, unless otherwise indicated, been taken or derived from (i) the audited consolidated financial statements of Holdco as of and for the financial year ended 31

December 2020 (including restated comparative financial information as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2019), which have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards issued by the International Accounting Standards Board as adopted by the European Union (“IFRS”) and (ii) the unaudited consolidated interim financial information of Holdco as of and for the six-month period ended 30 June 2021, which has been prepared on the basis of the applicable recognition, measurement and consolidation principles of IFRS for interim financial reporting (IAS 34).

For better presentation purposes in the Group’s operating activity, Holdco made (i) corrections in classification of certain line item and (ii) changes in accounting principles implementing the direct method instead of the indirect method regarding the net cash flows from operating activities in its audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2019 and restated the comparative financial information for the financial year ended 31 December 2018 in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income and consolidated statement of cash flows, as described in Note 9 to the consolidated financial statements as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2019. These restatements did not have any effect on the Group’s profit and total change in cash and cash equivalents for the financial year ended 31 December 2018.

During 2020, the Group discovered that the development costs of internally developed loan implementation system (LES) were not recognized as work in progress under intangible assets in Holdco’s unconsolidated financial statements. Therefore, the assets of Holdco and profit for the period were understated. The misstatement has been corrected by restating each of the affected financial statement line items for prior period. Accordingly, the audited consolidated financial statements of Holdco as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2020 provided for a restatement of the comparative financial information for the financial year ended 31 December 2018 as summarised in Note 29.1 to the consolidated financial statements as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2020.

The financial information with respect to net debt and the key financial parameters set forth herein, has, unless otherwise indicated, been derived from management report included in Holdco’s annual reports of 2020 and 2019, Holdco’s internal accounting reporting system and Holdco’s unconsolidated financial statements, prepared in accordance with the Accounting Act of the Republic of Estonia, and have been calculated based on financial information from the aforementioned sources.

Where financial information in the tables in the Prospectus is labeled “audited”, this means that it has been taken from the above mentioned audited consolidated financial statements. The label “unaudited” is used in the tables in the Prospectus to indicate financial information that was not taken from the above mentioned audited consolidated financial statements but has been taken either from the above mentioned unaudited consolidated interim financial information or Holdco’s internal accounting reporting system, or is based on calculations of financial information of the above mentioned sources as well as Holdco’s unconsolidated financial statements.

Certain stated figures, financial information and market data (including percentages) given in this Prospectus had been rounded up or down pursuant to generally applicable commercial and business standards. It is therefore possible that not all total amounts (total sums or interim totals, differences or figures used as reference) contained within this Prospectus coincide completely with the underlying (non-rounded) individual amounts contained in other places or in documents incorporated by reference in this Prospectus. In addition, it is possible that these rounded figures in tables do not add up precisely to form the overall total sums in the respective tables.

11. Further information regarding this Prospectus

- (i) that the information in this Prospectus is correct as of any time subsequent to the date hereof or, as the case may be, subsequent to the date on which this Prospectus has been most recently amended, or supplemented, or
- (ii) that there has been no adverse change in the affairs or the financial situation of the Issuer which is material in the context of the issue and sale of the Bonds since the date of this Prospectus or, as the case may be, the date on which this Prospectus has been most recently amended or supplemented, or
- (iii) that any other information supplied in connection with the issue of the Bonds is correct at any time subsequent to the date on which it is supplied or, if different, the date indicated in the document containing the same,

The Bonds are not suitable for all kinds of investors. Neither this Prospectus nor any other information supplied in connection with the Bonds should be considered as a recommendation by the Issuer to an investor that such investor should purchase any Bonds.

12. MiFID II Product Governance

Solely for the purposes of each manufacturer's product approval process, the target market assessment in respect of the Bonds has led to the conclusion that: (i) the target market for the Bonds is eligible counterparties, professional and retail clients, each as defined in Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, "MiFID II"); and (ii) all channels for distribution of the Bonds are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Bonds (a "distributor") should take into consideration the manufacturers' target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Bonds (by either adopting or refining the manufacturers' target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

VII. SELECTED FINANCIAL INFORMATION AND OPERATING DATA

As at the date of this Prospectus, the parent company of the Group is Holdco.

The selected consolidated financial information set forth below should be read in conjunction with the respective documents incorporated by reference in this Prospectus.

The tables below present key selected consolidated financial information for the Group and key selected financial information of Holdco as of and for the financial years ended 31 December 2019 and 31 December 2020 and for the six-month period ended 30 June 2021. The financial information with respect to the consolidated statement of comprehensive income, the consolidated statement of financial position and the consolidated statement of cash flows has been taken or derived from (i) the audited consolidated financial statements of Holdco as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2020 (including restated comparative financial information as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2019), and (ii) the unaudited consolidated interim financial information of Holdco as of and for the six-month period ended 30 June 2021. The audited consolidated financial statements of Holdco as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2020 were prepared in accordance with IFRS. The unaudited consolidated interim financial information of Holdco as of and for the six-month period ended 30 June 2021 was prepared on the basis of the applicable recognition, measurement and consolidation principles of IFRS for interim financial reporting (IAS 34).

For better presentation purposes in the Group's operating activity, Holdco made (i) corrections in classification of certain line items and (ii) changes in accounting principles implementing the direct method instead of the indirect method regarding the net cash flows from operating activities in its audited consolidated financial statements as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2019 and restated the comparative financial information for the financial year ended 31 December 2018 in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income and consolidated statement of cash flows, as described in Note 9 to the consolidated financial statements as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2019. These restatements did not have any effect on the Group's profit and total change in cash and cash equivalents for the financial year ended 31 December 2018.

During 2020, the Group discovered that the development costs of internally developed loan implementation system (LES) were not recognized as work in progress under intangible assets in Holdco's unconsolidated financial statements. Therefore, the assets of Holdco and profit for the period were understated. The misstatement has been corrected by restating each of the affected financial statement line items for prior period. Accordingly, the audited consolidated financial statements of Holdco as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2020 provided for a restatement of the comparative financial information for the financial year ended 31 December 2018 as summarised in Note 29.1 to the consolidated financial statements as of and for the financial year ended 31 December 2020.

The financial information with respect to net debt and the key financial parameters set forth herein, has, unless otherwise indicated, been derived from the management report included in Holdco's annual reports of 2019 and 2020, Holdco's internal accounting reporting system and Holdco's unconsolidated financial statements, prepared in accordance with the Accounting Act of the Republic of Estonia, and have been calculated based on financial information from the aforementioned sources.

Where financial information in the following tables is labeled "audited", this means that it has been taken from the above mentioned audited consolidated financial statements. The label "unaudited" is used in the following tables to indicate financial information that was not taken from the above mentioned audited consolidated financial statements but has been taken either from the above mentioned unaudited consolidated interim financial information or Holdco's internal accounting reporting system, or is based on calculations of financial information of the above mentioned sources as well as Holdco's unconsolidated financial statements.

collection agencies, bank statement providers, Central Bank registries and many others). Our process and procedures are based on simplicity and effectiveness. The average approval time for a loan application is usually 10 minutes with a minimum effort for a customer. Once approved and in the database, the process becomes even simpler and waiting time decreases. Offering immediate loan application and being the fastest and the most comfortable is what separates us from the competition.

The proven effectiveness and strong experience gained in lending into unbanked and underbanked markets allows us to expand fast and apply best practices from existing into the new markets.

b. Transparent products

Loans we offer have a term from 1 to 60 months and the amount offered varies depending on the income, the monthly payment requirements and the reliability of the customer. This implies that a customer can choose the amount needed, select minimum monthly payment and choose the payments dates.

All of our products are available to our customers through online and offline channels such as branches network, website and call center. Regardless of the medium and their convenience, our products and way of work allows a customer to have a clear insight into terms and conditions, privacy policies, pricing, and repayment model, as well in any additional concern or question they may have and is related to rules and procedures, product specification and how the lending in general works.

c. Being always present and everywhere

We are available 24/7, either online, by mobile phone or in one of our offices during open hours. We strive to offer automated approval process to our customers and expand our presence through partner/dealership network and cover as much territory as possible. Wherever our branch is not present we have our partners covering our customer's needs for smooth and fast application processing. We tend to be available 24/7. But if 24/7 is limited because of some of our partners (banks, shops, etc), then we process the application on the next working day. Partnership/dealer network is of high importance to us and cherishing this relationship brings an additional value to our customers. Through our network, we also offer specific type of loans for specific purchases such as electronics, used cars, house repair materials, furniture and different consumer services. By constantly improving our internal systems and aligning them with local regulations we try to make the process more and more automatized. As of 30 June 2021, we had a network consisting of 43 branches and more than 1,250 partner shops in 5 countries total – Albania, Moldova, North Macedonia, Bulgaria and Bosnia Herzegovina. We constantly try to onboard new partners and expand our network in order to offer and expand our services to as much customers as possible.

d. Experience for better competitiveness luteCredit Group and local team members come from different industries, mostly banking, finance, and sales. The wealth of their background, experience and profiles enables us to think creatively and move forward by utilizing the best practices and know how's with the positive output by enabling us to be even more competitive in the market.

As a Group, we aim to serve millions of customers and that means constant strive to attract the best talent, implement the best technology, develop the best organization and bring the best out in each team member. Money is the outcome of right actions, but at foremost we as a team enjoy ourselves in pursuing the right actions and overcoming the challenges.

e. Trust leads to success

Customers are our focus. Our work and products are designed around the customers' needs. We are constantly improving, becoming faster and more reliable for our customers, partners and employees. With a personalized approach, custom made products, valuing employees, contributing to the community, we tend to make a difference and create a positive impact in the society where we operate. We are trusted by more than 700,000 customers over the years. The amount of trust and good work that we do, is shown through a recent research conducted in the beginning of 2019, where we asked general population in countries of operations questions related to our visibility, trust, awareness, and creativity. We have also gained an insight how we rank with competition as well. Results obtained during this research show that the work we are doing and services we are providing are making significance to our customers.

In Moldova, where we have been operating for more than 10 years and in a highly competitive market, results show that, as of the beginning of 2020, awareness of the lute brand is 91% of the interviewed people; in Albania (more than 4 years of operations), result is 51%; in North Macedonia (more than 2 years of operations), result is 58% and in Bosnia and Herzegovina (operations from May 2019), total brand awareness result is 6%.

Sample of interviewed people has been conducted between 0.02%-0.05% of the total population in cities where we have our branches and established presence. Randomly selected people for the research purposes were taken out from all demographic segments, without necessarily being customers of luteCredit.

Customer Performance Index (CPI) is a unique index developed by luteCredit. CPI measures customers' actual repayments against the expected repayments according to the original repayment schedules of loan agreements within a tolerance period for repayment delays. It is a cashflow- and reality-centric indicator that avoids evergreening illusions or illusions that may arise from inadequate provisioning. Repayment within 30 days of delay (CPI30) is considered normal and a so called "technical delay". CPI50+ (DPD 50+) is recognized by luteCredit as NPLs. For the six-month period ending on 30 June 2021, luteCredit reached a CPI30 ratio of 86.9% as the weighted average across products and markets.

lutecredit strategy is to become the leading customer centric lending company that focuses on providing loans and credit to people in need of obtaining funds in a fast and comfortable way by using different channels, partners and providers for application processing and pay out of funds. Our main concentration of customers currently lies in Eastern and South Eastern European countries such as Moldova, Albania, North Macedonia, Bulgaria and Bosnia Herzegovina, with day to day support from the headquarters in Estonia.

The future of personal finance will be based on installments. That is, subscription and pay-as-you-go based economy will expand along with development of technology and regulatory frameworks. In history, the humankind has moved from long-term and big subscription based deals, such as mortgage, into smaller units, such as car leasing, and we see further movement towards even smaller transactions: to the effect where it is common to split the regular monthly income fully between various subscriptions. Some of those subscriptions can be credit repayments. The goal is to make subscriptions very easy, seamless part of everyday life and everyday consumption.

4. Products

lute's loan products are mostly unsecured consumer loans with a term between 1 month and 48 months and car-secured loans with terms of up to 72 months. Unsecured consumer loan amounts are between EUR 25 to EUR 3,200 with Annual Percentage Rate (APR) from 24% to 120%. Interest rates are defined based on the loan amount, maturity, customer employment/income type as well as application signing channel. Car-secured loan amounts are between EUR 250 to EUR 12,000 with APR from 27% to 47.5%. Interest rates are defined based on the loan amount, maturity, customer employment/income type.

lute aims to serve only customers with a permanent workplace and stable income. Disbursements of the loans are based on personal identification and personal credit rating. For a new applicant, the credit rating depends on comparison of the applicant's relevant parameters with respective parameters of performing and poorly performing statistic customer groups and certain databases. In this regard, 63% of unique loan applications in Moldova, 74% in Albania, 60% in North Macedonia, 38% in Bosnia and Herzegovina and 11% in Bulgaria have been approved. For returning customers, we apply personal credit rating which is based on individual performance data. More than 62% of loan applications across the Group have been approved.

Loans are handled via an agent network (such as shops, money transfer companies, postal agencies) and our own retail offices and ATM network. By the end of 2020, we had 40 of our own retail branches. Iute handles money only via bank accounts and does not perform cash operations. However, certain agents of Iute perform also cash operations and assume the related risks.

Part of the sales strategy, joint marketing co-promotions are organized to promote special deals and reach out to a higher number of potential customers. Our biggest retail partners in the markets where we operate are: Deutsche Telekom, A1 (Part of Austria Telecom Group), Orange, Vodafone, MoldCell, Western Union, Post Offices, Home Appliance and Furniture retailers – Neptun, Setec, TehnoMarket, Bomba, JYSK, PrimaMebel etc. Besides International and Balkan region well-known brands, we cooperate with small local shops, helping them with marketing activities and provide guidance and support.

7. Credit and Risk Management

a. The Credit risk

The Credit risk is based on the likelihood of the counterparty not meeting its obligations under a financial instrument or customer contract, leading to a financial loss. The Group is exposed to credit risk from its operating activities (primarily from issued loan agreements).

b. The Risk management

To manage luteCredit's credit policy and portfolio risks, the Group has a credit committee (the "CreCo"). The CreCo defines which loans are issued and to which customer groups.

There are two levels of CreCo: (i) the Group CreCo and (ii) the subsidiaries CreCo. The Group CreCo has authority over the following decisions: to determine the competence of the subsidiaries CreCo, to determine the loan parameters (the "Loan Parameters"), to determine the loan application checking and approval procedure (the "Checking Procedure"), and to determine the overdue procedure (the "Overdue Procedure").

The Group CreCo members are the Group's CEO (Chief Executive Officer), the Group's CFO (Chief Financial Officer), the Group's COO (Chief Operations Officer), the Group's CCO (Chief Commercial Officer), the Group's L&C (Head of Legal & Compliance) and the Group's CRO (Chief Risk Officer). The Group CreCo's work is organized by the Group's CRO and its records and decisions are maintained and communicated by the Group's CRO.

The Group CreCo makes decisions at the request of the local subsidiary's management or on its own if necessary.

The subsidiary CreCo consists of local management team or other relevant positions.

Every luteCredit subsidiary monitors periodically (standard report is made monthly) repayment statistics. The Subsidiaries make all relevant portfolio analysis. Based on this data, the Subsidiaries make strategical decisions.

luteCredit uses following main methods for monitoring the portfolio quality:

CPI (Customer Performance Index): this is the ratio of amount actually repaid by the customer to the amount expected to be repaid by the customer according to installment plan. $CPI = \text{actual}$/\text{expected}$$. The Actual repayment can be accounted with different time tolerances, measured in days from the day the repayment of the principal and primary fees was scheduled according to installment plan. For example, if the scheduled date is 15 November and the customer makes the repayment 30 days late (15 December). If the tolerance is of 30 days, then, with a tolerance of 30 days, the repayment would still be accounted as the repayment would still be accounted as an actual repayment of that particular expected repayment. If the tolerance was 0 days, then that repayment of 15 December could not be accounted as an actual repayment, it is too late. CPI is usually expressed with its tolerance index in days (for example CPI0, CPI30, etc). By default, CPI expresses the ratio of actual to expected repayments of principal and primary fees. By default, unless otherwise clearly stated otherwise, the tolerance is 30 days (“CPI30” and “CPI” mean the same thing.).

DPI (Defaulted Performance Index): the ratio of actually repaid debt by defaulted customer against expected total debt repayment that was determined at the moment of the termination of the relevant loan agreement (“T”). The expected total debt includes, in addition to the outstanding principal and primary fees, also secondary fees as penalties stemming from the delayed repayments and termination of the loan agreement. $DPI = \text{actual}$/\text{expected}$$. Actual repayment can be accounted with different time tolerances, measured in days from the moment of T. DPI is usually expressed with tolerance index (for example DPI30, DPI180, etc). If the collection is made within first 40 days, then it counts for the purpose of DPI180, but not for the purpose of DPI30.

8. Underwriting and Review

a. Overview of the underwriting and review process

The underwriting policy of luteCredit is generally described with a main sequence.

This main sequence is the description of the main loan process steps, the order of the steps and the interrelation between those steps. It is also a map to understand the business process and how this process is further improved. The Company creates an extraordinary customer experience. It produces the loans, and improves itself through the main sequence, as the experience gathered is carried on and luteCredit improves constantly the process.

The main sequence proceeds as follows: The major steps are designated with the box. Each process step (each box) follows the previous step (previous box). One cannot proceed to the next step without completing the previous step. All the process steps together form a continuous revolving circle, creating a repeated customer experience. Each step can involve or trigger various sub-sequences and formats. The repay step, for example, can trigger both the aftersale step (if the repayments are properly executed) or the reminder step, or even the collection step (if the repayments are not executed properly). Every step can be measured by its speed, its efficiency or by other parameters.

Every step consists of a set of manual operations (“MAN/OP”) and by robot automated operations (“AUT/OP”). The manual operations refer to the operations made by the user. They are registered when the user presses the respective button (for instance: when the user presses the green button “submit loan application”). By “Continuous improvement”, it is meant that incremental changes inside each of those process steps are made. By the use of the main sequence, problems and opportunities are located and described. Some of the main sequence steps, or even all of them, may happen instantly. Hence, the user perceives everything happening simultaneously, within the same second. Internally however, the Main Sequence works, as said, “in sequences.”

The steps in the main sequence are the following: (i) the apply step, (ii) the check step (iii) the approve step, (iv) the notify step, (v) the sign step (vi) the pay-out step, (vii) the repay step and, (viii) the aftersale step.

The first step is the customer’s application for the loan. The application can be done from different locations and using different technologies, depending on the local market (e.g.: web application, application at the lute branch, application at a partner’s shop, application via SMS, application by phone call or application via Mylute App). Once the apply step is completed; the loan application is entered into lute's CRM. This process triggers the following step: the check step.

b. Verifying the identity of the customer and checking the creditworthiness and affordability (the check step)

The second step concerns the identity verification, verification of the financial data declared by the customer and gathering other relevant information to assess the customer's creditworthiness and affordability. The information declared by the customer in the loan application, other luteCredit databases and external data is examined. The verification can also involve various technologies and various manual or automated operations, depending on both the customer and the loan application. It is a necessary step, before the loan can be approved. The check step is finalized when the information concerning the identity of the customer is obtained, including their PEP status and the customer's existence in the Sanctions List or in the Watch List, and the data for assessing the creditworthiness and affordability is available. That does not mean that the data is positive, the check covers only gathering the data, a decision is not taken at that step. This step triggers the approve step.

c. The loan approval (the approve step)

After the data has been checked, the identity of the customer is properly verified and, in case the customer's financial situation would allow us to issue the loan, the loan application can be approved. The approval involves various technologies to make the decision to approve or disapprove the loan.

d. The notification (the notify step)

The notification is the feedback given by luteCredit to the customer on his or her loan application, in terms of whether the loan is available or not. That is the first part of perceivable customer experience after the customer has expressed his or her wish for a loan. The question remains of how fast the customer gets the luteCredit's response. luteCredit pays full attention to accelerate and continuously improves its loan origination process. The customer always receives a notification, whether the loan is approved or not. This step triggers the following step, the signing of the loan agreement.

e. Signing and concluding of the loan agreement (the SIGN step)

This step concerns the concluding of the loan agreement. Until signing, the process is non-binding where luteCredit has promised to give a response to customer's request and follow the consumer credit, consumer protection and data protection rules. After the customer and luteCredit have signed the loan agreement, the loan agreement is considered to be in full effect and legally binding. Depending on the country and the law, the loan agreement can be signed on paper with ink or electronically. After the sign step, the pay-out step starts.

f. The loan disbursement (the pay-out step)

The agreed loan is disbursed to the customer in the agreed manner on the agreed time. This step can be completed through the use of various technologies and platforms. The most classic and free of charge form of pay out (from luteCredit's Bank account to the Customer's bank account) is also the least used. More often, it is completed in the form of handing over the purchased goods at the shop to the customer, the disbursement of cash over the counter of luteCredit's partner such as the post office, an increase of the available balance on the customer's credit card or via luteCredit's own ATM network. luteCredit does not handle cash operations itself. The next step is the repayment step.

g. The repayment step

Once the pay-out has been completed, the customer will have to start paying the agreed loan back, in the expected time, the agreed amount to the respective account of LuteCredit. This can be done through various platforms and technologies, depending on the market and the legislation. For instance the repayment from the customer's bank account to the LuteCredit bank account, the repayment of cash through ATM's, repayment in cash over the post's counter. If the repayment does not meet the agreed amount, it can lead to (a) a reminder process, (b) an internal collection process or (c), an external collection process. In case the customer has repaid their loan in full or the repayment as accounted meets the agreed amount, the next step will be the aftersale step.

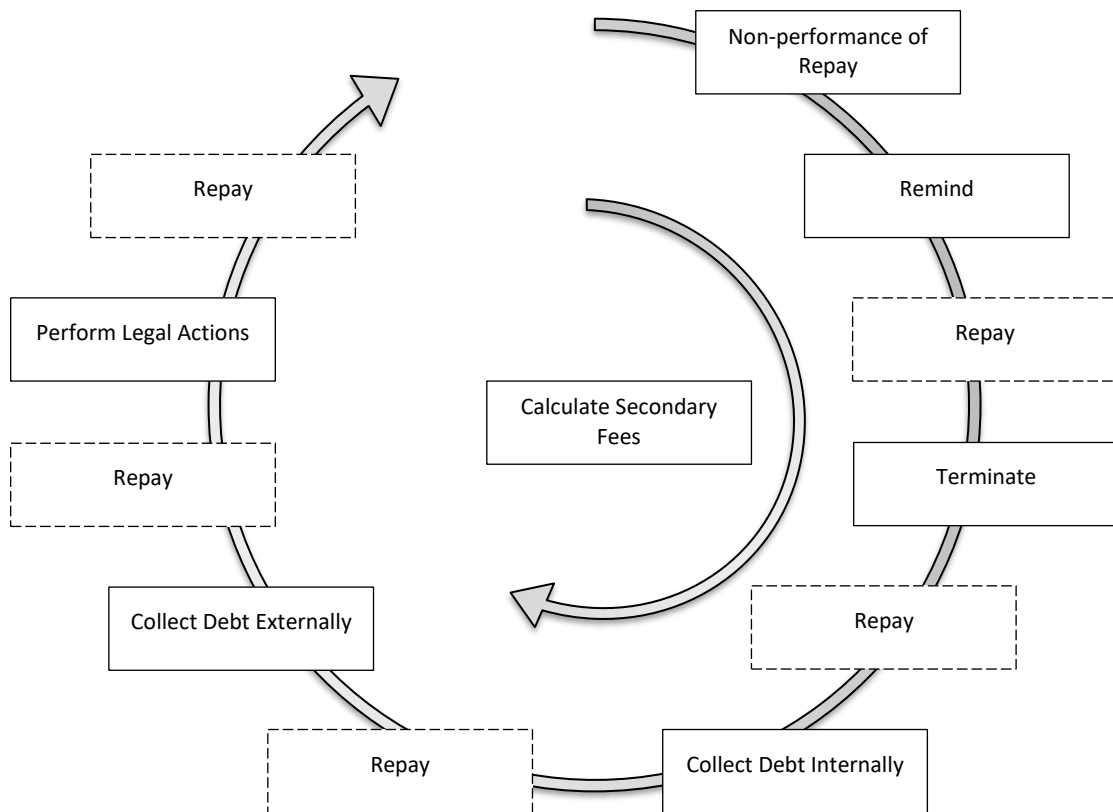

h. The aftersale step

The aftersale is the LuteCredit-initiated attempt to generate the Customer's interest towards a new loan, probably in a bigger amount and in financially more favorable conditions. This would then trigger a new loan application again.

Each subsidiary has its own country-specific checking procedure where underwriting steps are described more detailed way.

9. Portfolio management and overdue sequence

The overdue sequence looks as follows:

The overdue sequence is carried out in a series of steps. Only customers failing to repay (see “the repayment step” of the “main sequence”) initiate the overdue sequence. Once engaged into the overdue sequence, the customer proceeds with the steps in order. However, if the customer manages to repay fully the delayed installment, together with respective penalties, before termination of contract, the customer does not continue. He or she exits the overdue sequence and rejoins the main sequence. If the repayments are made after the termination of the contract, the customer has exited the overdue sequence and will not rejoin the main sequence.

On the chart, the process steps of the overdue sequence are represented by a box. Each process step (each box) follows the previous step (previous box). It is not possible to proceed to the next step without having completed the previous step. The dotted boxes that can be observed are conditional steps. If the customer repays according to the expectations, then the customer exits the overdue sequence. If the customer does not repay, then he/she stays in the overdue sequence. The following step then applies. It should be noted that the overdue sequence is unfinished; it is not a continuous revolving circle. The steps of overdue sequence proceed as follows:

A. REPAY

The repayment step means that the customer has paid back the loan or the amounts due. As previously mentioned, the customer exits the overdue sequence.

B. REMIND

It is the action of recalling the obligation to make primary and secondary repayments pursuant to the loan agreement. This step consists of various reminding activities through calls, text messages, and letters, which aim to get the customer back on track with their repayment schedule and to prevent termination. These actions are performed by customer advisors and, at a later stage, by specially dedicated risk customer advisors. Different solutions can be offered to customers for convenient repayments: suspension (the right to suspend or defer repayment of a monthly installment for a certain period) and relief (the extension of the repayment schedule, according to which the original installment plan is amended in order to enable the customer to repay the remaining balance of their loan in smaller monthly installments and for a longer period than originally agreed upon).

C. TERMINATE

When the customer has failed to perform his contractual duties, luteCredit has the right to unilaterally terminate the single loan agreement and/or any other agreements in place with such customer. All debt (outstanding principal, primary fees and secondary fees) becomes due and payable at once. Termination is applied after an installment is in delay for at least 50 days.

D. COLLECT DEBT INTERNALLY

It is the step where all receivables (principal, primary and secondary claim) are collected from defaulted loans/defaulted customers within a time frame set by luteCredit’s internal procedures. The collection activities are carried out by luteCredit employees – debt advisors – who, beside asking the debtors to repay their total debt, can offer discounts on secondary and primary claim and/or debt settlement agreements (repayment schedules), with the aim to motivate debtors to repay their debt. If this step is unsuccessful, the loan in default is handed over to external debt collection.

E. COLLECT DEBT EXTERNALLY

In this step, all the receivables from defaulted loans/defaulted customers are collected by specialized debt collection companies, within a time frame set in the cooperation agreement with luteCredit. Several debt collection companies are used for better results, including sequential usage of companies if the first collection company has failed to recover the amounts due. The cooperation with external debt collection companies is based on agent-principal agreements and on a “no result – no pay” principle, meaning that luteCredit pays for collection services only from actual repayments received from the debtors.

F. PERFORM LEGAL ACTIONS

If luteCredit deems necessary and reasonable, legal action is taken with the claims where collection activities have been ineffective.

10. Competition

Even though luteCredit is acting in jurisdictions that are currently underbanked, in certain markets it would also compete with financial institutions, such as banks, credit unions and other consumer lenders offering similar financial services offering loans.

Albania

The biggest competitor of luteCredit in the Albanian market is Fondi Besa. Fondi Besa offers a wide range of loans, including business loans, green loans, agricultural loans, consumer loans and tourism loans.

Fondi Besa’s mission is to contribute to the country economic growth in the urban and semi urban areas, by promoting and financing the small and medium enterprises sector in Albania. Customers of Fondi Besa are people from all socio-economic layers, including unemployed persons and start-up businesses.

It operates through 80 offices and covers more than 80% of Albanian urban and semi urban areas.

Bosnia Herzegovina

luteCredit’s main competitor on the Bosnian market is Digital Finance, which is registered as an entity of the Republika Srpska (RS), but through its branch offices offers short-term loans without collateral also in the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, where luteCredit operates, but with lower funding compared to luteCredit.

In addition to Digital Finance, there is a large number of microcredit organizations in the Bosnian market (14 in the Federation, 14 in the RS) with a slightly different business concept than luteCredit, as they offer loans that are secured by some collateral and for different purposes of financing.

Moldova

The biggest competitor of luteCredit in the Moldovan market is Easy Credit. Easy Credit focuses on consumer loans.

Easy Credit is a non-bank credit organization in Moldova and specialized on non-guaranteed short and long term loans. Easy Credit is working to build and expand the branch network to be available to customers, both in the city of Chisinau and in other regions.

North Macedonia

The biggest competitor in the North-Macedonian market is Forza, which is part of Finstar Financial group and is focused on consumer loans.

Finstar Financial group is a global private investment group operating in Europe, the United States of America, Asia, Latin America and the CIS, which is mainly focused on FinTech, but has been building a reputation as a successful company in the financial services, information technology (IT), lending to the population, the media and the real estate sector.

Digital Finance International is a new company in Finstar holding Finstar's investment and offers a wide range of lending products and services on markets around the world, and specifically focuses on emerging markets in order to meet customer's financial needs.

11. Operations and Technology

Operations and Technology organization's main goal is to deliver product features and functionalities across all markets in which luteCredit operates, as well as to ensure high quality production operations.

Core Systems

Loan Engine – The loan engine is the core system based on which loans are originated and managed across their lifecycle. It includes dynamic product configuration, application, decision making and loan maintenance functions. Decisions can be made either manually or automatically based on customer and product attributes. Separate user interfaces are available for front/back-office employees as well as shops and merchants. This system is in-house built using standard technology components.

Task Management Engine – The task management engine is the central orchestration system to handle all business process workflows. Every step in each business process is tasked and measured. Algorithms ensure that tasks are distributed optimally across respective people and roles. This system is in-house built using standard technology components.

ICA, being a Guarantor, and ICM and ICNM have financed their operations through the Mintos marketplace (the “Mintos Debt”). The Mintos marketplace is operated by SIA Mintos Finance (registration No 40203022549) (Latvia) acting as loan originator and AS Mintos Marketplace (registration No. 40103903643) maintaining and managing the Mintos platform and servicing the claims of the investors.

The Mintos platform typically works as follows: (i) borrowers (i.e., luteCredit’s customers) apply for a loan with the loan originator (i.e., luteCredit), (ii) the loan originator evaluates the application, sets an interest rate and lends money from its own funds and (iii) loans are then listed on the Mintos marketplace, where investors can select loans to invest in, thereafter receiving part of monthly payments and interest. By investing in a loan, investors are buying claim rights against a borrower based on an assignment agreement or equivalent arrangement. In the case that a borrower is unable to repay the loan, investors may lose some or all of their invested capital. The loan originator may guarantee the performance of the borrower, by undertaking to buy back the assigned claims if they remain unpaid for 60 days after they are due. In certain cases, however, Mintos as a loan originator grants a loan, or a series of loans, to luteCredit, which then repays from loans to its customers serving as the source of repayment and Mintos as the loan originator further lists such loans on the Mintos marketplace, where investors can select loans to invest in, thereafter receiving part of monthly payments and interest received by Mintos from luteCredit.

Below a brief description of the contractual arrangement with the Mintos marketplace for each jurisdiction where we operate:

The pledge is registered in favor of SIA Mintos Finance as the fiduciary agent for investors in accordance with the assignment agreement and the pledge over the receivables.

10. Legal Proceedings

Following the decision of the CBK to revoke the license of ICK (see “Information about the Group and the Guarantors – Recent Events and Trends”), ICE submitted a request for arbitration to the International Court of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce for breach by the Republic of Kosovo of the Kosovar law on foreign investments. According to ICE, by revoking the business licence, Kosovo breached several obligations under the Kosovar law on foreign investments, such as the obligation to accord ICE with fair and equitable treatment under Article 3(1); the obligation to provide full protection and security to ICE under Article 3(2); the obligations not to interfere with or impair ICE’s investment under Article 3(4); the obligation to comply with the Republic of Kosovo’s obligations created by law or other legal acts (umbrella clause) under Article 5(1); and the obligation not to expropriate ICE’s investment without immediate, adequate and effective compensation under Article 7.

On 14 February 2020, ICE filed a Request for Arbitration with the International Chamber of Commerce (the “ICC”) in Paris against the Republic of Kosovo. ICE is seeking to challenge the CBK’s revocation of ICKO’s license under Kosovo’s Law on Foreign Investment, which provides for recourse to international arbitration for investment disputes between a foreign investor and the Republic of Kosovo. On 8 July 2020, the composition of the three-member ICC tribunal was concluded and the ICC Secretariat submitted the case file to the tribunal. The oral hearing will be held in February 2022, and following such hearing and any possible subsequent written submission, the tribunal will render a decision.

In its arbitration claim, ICE is seeking full compensation for the measures imposed by the CBK against ICKO. At the time of the revocation of ICKO’s license, ICKO had a loan portfolio of approximately EUR 12 million spread over more than 25,000 loans. The final amount of damages claimed will only be determined in the course of the arbitration proceedings.

Save as disclosed above, no member of the Group is engaged in or, to our knowledge, has currently threatened against it, any governmental, legal or arbitration proceedings which may have, or have had during the 12 months preceding the date of this Prospectus, a significant effect on our financial position or profitability.

11. Expected financing of the Group’s activities

The Issuer and each of the Guarantors expect to finance their activities with funds generated from their business activities as well as debt issues, marketplace platforms, peer to peer platforms and bank facilities.

12. Recent Events and Trends

luteCredit’s business has grown substantially in the recent years, and it continues to monitor business development opportunities in new and upcoming countries as well as in existing markets. While luteCredit has grown organically, it aims to leverage its existing expertise and business model into expanding into countries which have an attractive potential for the services it is offering and where there is a need of the customers to implement its business model.

To diversify its operations and the offer of products to customers, luteCredit is currently analyzing the possibility to acquire a regulated financial institution to be able to provide a wider spectrum of financial services to its customers. However, this is an open process which is depending on various factors, such as the positive outcome of due diligence processes.

Kosovo developments

luteCredit started operations in Kosovo in 2017 through its directly held subsidiary luteCredit Kosovo J.S.C (“ICK”). ICK was a licensed microfinance institution supervised by the Central Bank of Kosovo (the “CBK”). On 6 December 2019, the CBK notified ICK that its microfinance license has been revoked with immediate effect. According to the CBK decision, the reasons for the revocation of the license were that the shareholder of ICK was not deemed fit and proper, and that ICK had not ensured the application of the effective interest rate communicated in the business plan at the time of submission in 2017. Regarding the assumed non-compliance with its business plan, ICK had submitted a revised business plan to CBK on 14 November 2019, which reflected ICK’s adjusted business operations, including, among others, the effective interest rates. Until the notice of revocation, no notification had been received from CBK on that business plan. With regard to the appropriateness of the shareholder of ICK and the overall shareholder structure of luteCredit, the shareholders and shareholder structure have remained unchanged since ICK obtained its license from CBK.

The Group immediately initiated an investigation and legal assessment of the facts in order to make full use of all available legal measures to help resolve the situation and protect the interests of Holdco as a shareholder, creditor and investor in Kosovo. With the revocation of the license, CBK also appointed a liquidator and started a liquidation process of ICK in Kosovo.

While the revocation of the license and the liquidation process has been disputed by Holdco, the Group decided to write down the portfolio of ICK to EUR 4.9 million (30 September 2019: EUR 9.3 million) on 18 December 2019 for reasons of commercial prudence. As a result of the liquidation process and the loss of control of the shares by Holdco, ICK was no longer consolidated in the Group and deemed a subsidiary of Holdco.

Interest coverage ratio (ICR) and capitalization ratio were not materially affected by the write-down and provided sufficient headroom regarding the covenants of the Existing Bonds. The interest coverage ratio was 2.0 (pre-write-down: 2.6), compared to the financial covenant of 1.5. The capitalization ratio amounted to 22.4% (pre-write-down: 25.0%). The capitalization ratio, in accordance with the covenants, must be at least 15.0%.

The financial impact of the written-down loan portfolio in Kosovo on the Group performance for the full year 2019 was limited under the current circumstances, given the small size of the loan book in Kosovo before the write-down, which amounted to 13.7% of the Group’s net loan portfolio. EBITDA as of 31 December 2019 was also minimally impacted. As a result of the write-down, a consolidated net profit margin was 14.0% for the year ended on 31 December 2019 (previous estimate: 17.0%).

Irrespective of the write-down, a coordinated multi-disciplinary effort has been mounted with a view to restoring the business activities of luteCredit in Kosovo. In order to protect the company, in particular, luteCredit’s employees, business partners, and investors, from the unexpected revocation of the license by the CBK and the subsequent liquidation, Holdco’s board of directors is considering further legal actions.

Covid-19 Developments

In order to cope with the ongoing pandemic and mitigate the impact of Covid-19, the following measures were implemented, some of which are not currently applicable but are kept as possible measures to be re-implement if there is a further need for it:

Workplace safety optimization – Exceeding governmental restrictions

- Home office option implemented (staff fully equipped to work remotely)
- Expansion of virtual working environments
- Free hand sanitizers and medicated facial masks are available at the office(s)
- Joint Covid-19 Legal and Risk Committee was established in March 2020, which had daily consultations until June 2020, and at least once a week from there on.

Cost optimization

- Personnel expense while maintaining employment down 20% by short-time work and waiver of salaries by mutual agreement in the period of March 2020 until December 2020.
- Country operations in early stages (before full operational capacity) suspended from March 2020 until April 2021
- Buy-back of P2P loans

Cash flow optimization

- Tax payment deferral in accordance with governmental Covid-19 regulations
- Deferral of payment with service providers

In line with these measures, it was decided to suspend the activities of luteCredit Bulgaria EOOD until the situation would stabilize. All the loan agreements that were concluded remained in force and luteCredit Bulgaria EOOD fulfilled all its obligations, but new loans were not disbursed. luteCredit Bulgaria EOOD restarted its operations in June 2021.

As of the date of this Prospectus there are no more Covid-19 restrictions in the countries where luteCredit operates, which may have a material impact on its business.

- (b) The Agent shall not be considered to have acted negligently if it has acted in accordance with advice from or opinions of reputable external experts engaged by the Agent or if the Agent has acted with reasonable care in a situation when the Agent considers that it is detrimental to the interests of the Holders to delay the action in order to first obtain instructions from the Holders.

- (c) The Agent shall not be liable for any delay (or any related consequences) in crediting an account with an amount required pursuant to the Finance Documents to be paid by the Agent to the Holders, provided that the Agent has taken all necessary steps as soon as reasonably practicable to comply with the regulations or operating procedures of any recognized clearing or settlement system used by the Agent for that purpose.
- (d) The Agent shall have no liability to the Holders for damage caused by the Agent acting in accordance with instructions of the Holders given in accordance with Condition 16 (Meetings of Holders).

9.3 Replacement of the Agent

- (b) The Security Agent shall hold the Transaction Security on behalf of the Secured Creditors and shall have all the claim rights necessary for establishment, perfection, maintenance and enforcement of the Transaction Security, directly or, as the case may be, through the Enforcement Agent, in accordance with the terms of the Transaction Security Documents and the Security Agent Agreement.
- (c) Unless and until the Security Agent has received instructions from the Holders in accordance with Condition 16 (Meetings of Holders), the Security Agent shall (without first having to obtain the Holders' consent) be entitled to enter into agreements with the Pledgors or a third party or take any other actions, if it is, in the Security Agent's opinion, necessary for the purpose of maintaining, releasing or enforcing the Transaction Security or for the purpose of settling the Holders' or the Issuer's rights to the Transaction Security, in each case in accordance with the terms of the Transaction Security Documents, the Security Agent Agreement and the terms of the Finance Documents, and provided that such agreements or actions are not detrimental to the interests of the Holders.

- (d) The Agent shall be entitled to give instructions relating to the Transaction Security to the Security Agent in accordance with the Security Agent Agreement.

10.2 Release of Transaction Security

The Security Agent may at any time release any Transaction Security in accordance with the terms of the Transaction Security Documents and the Security Agent Agreement. The Security Agent is a joint creditor (together with the other Secured Creditors) of the Corresponding Debt and, accordingly, the Security Agent shall have its own independent right to demand performance by the Issuer, Holdco or any Subsidiary of Holdco thereunder.
- (b) The Parallel Debt is a separate debt independent from the Corresponding Debt, except that in case of a payment under the Corresponding Debt or the Parallel Debt, as applicable, the Parallel Debt or the Corresponding Debt will decrease for the same amount (so that at any time the amount under the Corresponding Debt and the Parallel Debt will be equal).
- (c) In case the Security Agent or the Enforcement Agent receives any payment under the Parallel Debt or as a consequence of the enforcement of any Transaction Security, Guarantees or indemnity, such amount (after deduction of any costs or taxes) shall be applied in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Transaction Security Document (it being understood that the amount that is due to the Holders in accordance with the Conditions will only be reduced with the amount the Security Agent would pay to the Holders under the Parallel Debt or the enforcement of any Transaction Security, Guarantees or indemnity).

11.4 Financial Indebtedness and Disqualified Stock

- (a) The Issuer shall not, and the Guarantors have undertaken in the Guarantees not to, create, incur, issue, assume, guarantee or otherwise become directly or indirectly liable, contingently or otherwise, with respect to (collectively for the purpose of this Condition 11.4 and Condition 11.16 (Additional Secured Creditors) “incur”) any Financial Indebtedness or issue any Disqualified Stock or preferred stock, provided, however, that the Issuer may incur Financial Indebtedness or issue Disqualified Stock and the Guarantors may incur Financial Indebtedness and issue preferred stock if: (a) the Incurrence Test is met (calculated on a pro forma basis as if the additional Financial Indebtedness had been incurred or the Disqualified Stock or the preferred stock had been issued, as the case may be, at the beginning of the Relevant Period ending on the last day of the period covered by the most recent Financial Report); and, if a Financial Indebtedness is to be incurred, (b) such Financial Indebtedness ranks pari passu with or is unsecured, other than Financial Indebtedness with respect to Additional Secured Obligations, or is subordinated to the obligations of the Issuer or the Guarantors under the Finance Documents. The foregoing shall not prohibit the incurrence of any Permitted Debt.
- (b) The Issuer shall not incur, and the Guarantors have undertaken in the Guarantees not to incur, any Financial Indebtedness (including Permitted Debt) that is contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Financial Indebtedness of the Issuer or such Guarantor unless such Financial Indebtedness is also contractually subordinated in right of payment under the Finance Documents on substantially identical terms; provided, however, that no Financial Indebtedness shall be deemed to be contractually subordinated in right of payment to any other Financial Indebtedness of the Issuer or any Guarantor solely by virtue of being unsecured or by virtue of being secured on a junior priority basis.

11.5 Negative pledge

The Issuer shall not, and the Guarantors have undertaken in the Guarantees, not to, create or allow to subsist, retain, provide, prolong or renew any security of any kind (including any mortgage, lien, pledge, charge, security interest or encumbrance) (“Security”) over any of their assets (present or future) to secure any Financial Indebtedness, provided, however, that the Obligors have a right to create or allow to subsist, retain, provide, prolong and renew any Permitted Security.

(i) an event of default, howsoever described, occurs under any finance document pertaining to any Additional Secured Obligations;

(d) Insolvency

- (i) any Material Group Company is unable or admits inability to pay its debts as they fall due or is declared to be unable to pay its debts under applicable law, suspends making payments on its debts generally or, by reason of actual or anticipated financial difficulties, commences negotiations with its creditors (other than under these Terms and Conditions) with a view to rescheduling its Financial Indebtedness other than the Bonds;
- (ii) a moratorium is declared in respect of the Financial Indebtedness of any Material Group Company; or
- (iii) a Luxembourg Insolvency Event occurs with respect to the Issuer.

(e) Insolvency proceedings any corporate action, legal proceedings or other procedures are taken (other than (i) proceedings or petitions which are being disputed in good faith and are discharged, stayed or dismissed within thirty (30) calendar days of commencement or, if earlier, the date on which it is advertised and (ii), in relation to the Group Companies other than the Issuer or the Guarantors, solvent liquidations) in relation to:

However, if a moratorium occurs, the ending of that moratorium will not prevent termination for payment prematurely on the ground mentioned in Condition 13.1(d) (Insolvency).

13.3 If the right to terminate the Bonds is based upon a decision of a court of law or a government authority, it is not necessary that the decision has become enforceable under law or that the period of appeal has expired in order for cause of termination to be deemed to exist.

13.4 The Issuer is obligated to inform the Agent immediately if any circumstance of the type specified in Conditions 13.1 should occur. Should the Agent not receive such information, the Agent is entitled to assume that no such circumstance exists or can be expected to occur, provided that the Agent does not have knowledge of such circumstance. If such a conflict would exist pursuant to the listing contract with the relevant stock exchange or otherwise, the Issuer shall however be obligated to either seek the approval from the relevant stock exchange or undertake other reasonable measures, including entering into a non-disclosure agreement with the Agent, in order to be able to timely inform the Agent according to Condition 13.4.

The Agent shall always be entitled to take the time necessary to consider whether an occurred event constitutes an Event of Default and whether such event has a Material Adverse Effect.
- 13.7 If the Holders, without any prior initiative to decision from the Agent or the Issuer, have made a decision regarding termination in accordance with Condition 16 (Meetings of Holders), the Agent shall promptly declare the Bonds terminated. The Agent is however not liable to take action if the Agent considers cause for termination not to be at hand, unless the instructing Holders agree in writing to indemnify and hold the Agent harmless from any loss or liability and, if requested by the Agent in its discretion, grant sufficient security for such indemnity.
- 13.8 If the Bonds are declared due and payable in accordance with the provisions in this Condition 13, the Agent shall take every reasonable measure necessary to recover the amounts outstanding under the Bonds.

Any notice given through the Clearing System shall be deemed to have been given to each Holder on the day after the day on which the said notice was given to the Clearing System.

At any such adjourned meeting the Holder or Holders or proxies for Holders present, regardless of the number of Bonds held or represented by them, will constitute a quorum for all purposes. At least seven (7) days' notice of any adjourned meeting of the Holders shall be given. Notice of any adjourned meeting shall, so far as possible, be given in the same manner as for the original meeting and such notice shall state that the Holder or Holders or proxies for the Holders present at such meetings, regardless of the number or the Bonds held or represented by them, will constitute a quorum. Unless a poll is so demanded, a declaration by the chairman that a resolution has been carried unanimously or by a particular majority or lost or not carried by a particular majority shall be conclusive evidence of the fact without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against such resolution.

16.7 Poll

No notice need be given of a poll not taken immediately if the time and place at which it is to be taken are announced at the meeting at which it is demanded. In any other case, at least seven (7) days' notice shall be given.

The demand for a poll shall not prevent the continuance of the meeting for the transaction of any business other than the question on which the poll has been demanded. The demand for a poll may be withdrawn.

Such resolution in writing may consist of several documents in the like form each signed by or on behalf of one or more such persons.

A resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of the holders of not less than two-thirds in principal amount of the Bonds for the time being outstanding shall for all purposes be as valid and effectual as an Extraordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Holders.

A resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of the holders of a simple majority in principal amount of the Bonds for the time being outstanding shall for all purposes be as valid and effectual as an Ordinary Resolution passed at a meeting of Holders.

XVII. TAXATION

The tax legislation of the investor's member state and of the Issuer's country of incorporation (Luxembourg) may have an impact on the income received from the Bonds.

The following section is a description of certain tax consequences under the tax laws of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Germany and Luxembourg with regard to the acquisition, ownership and sale of the Bonds. The following description of the Estonian, Latvian, Lithuanian, German and Luxembourg tax situations is not intended to provide exhaustive information that might be necessary for an individual purchase decision regarding the Bonds offered. Only the essential regulations of income taxation are described in an outline. The Issuer points out that the specific tax consequences depend on the personal circumstances of the investors and may be affected by future changes in tax legislation, case law and/or the instructions of the fiscal authority. The description is based on the fiscal law applicable in Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania, Germany and Luxembourg at the time the Prospectus is being produced. These laws may change with retroactive effect as well. The specific tax treatment of the purchase, ownership or sale of the Bonds is thus only governed by the tax laws applicable in the individual case at any time in the respective interpretation by the fiscal authority and the fiscal courts. It cannot be ruled out that the interpretation by a tax authority or a fiscal court is different from the explanations shown here. Although the following explanations reflect the assessment by the Issuer, they may not be misinterpreted as tax advice or a guarantee. Tax advice cannot be replaced by these explanations and is therefore strongly recommended.

1. Taxation in Estonia

Taxation of Capital Gains from Sale or Exchange of Bonds

Residents

Gains realized by an Estonian resident individual upon the sale or exchange of securities (including the Bonds) are subject to income tax at the rate of 20%. For the purposes of capital gains taxation, the gain derived from the sale of securities (including the Bonds) is the difference between the acquisition cost and the sales price of such securities. The gain derived from the exchange of securities is the difference between the acquisition cost of securities subject to exchange and the market price of the property received as a result of the exchange. The expenses directly related to the sale or exchange of the Bonds may be deducted from the gains. Since all earnings of resident legal persons, including capital gains, are taxed only upon distribution (in Estonia corporate income tax is charged only on the distributed profit with the reinvested profits remaining untaxed until distribution), capital gains accruing to resident legal persons are not subject to immediate taxation.

Non-residents

As a general rule, capital gains received by non-residents from the sale or exchange of securities are not taxed in Estonia. Non-resident bondholders receiving capital gains from the sale or exchange of the Bonds may be subject to declaring and paying income tax in their respective countries of residence.

Taxation of Interest

Residents

Estonian resident individuals are subject to paying income tax (20%) on the interest received from securities (including the Bonds). Therefore, interest payments received by Estonian resident individuals from the Bonds are subject to income tax in Estonia. As a rule, if the interest has been paid by a non-resident entity, no income tax has been withheld and the individual Estonian resident shall declare and pay income tax in Estonia. Since all earnings of resident legal persons are taxed only upon distribution (as described above), interest received by Estonian resident legal persons is not subject to immediate taxation.

Non-residents

As a general rule, interest payments received by non-residents are exempt in Estonia. Non-resident bondholders receiving interest from the Bonds may be subject to declaring and paying income tax in their respective countries of residence.

Investment Account:

Estonian resident individuals may postpone the taxation of their investment income by using an investment account (in Estonian: investeerimiskonto) for the purposes of making transactions with certain financial assets (including the Bonds). An investment account is a cash account (standard bank account) opened with a resident credit institution of a member state of the OECD or in the permanent establishment of a credit institution located in the OECD country through which the transactions with the financial assets, taxation of income from which (e.g. capital gains, etc.) a person wants to postpone, shall be made. The moment of taxation of the financial income held on an investment account is postponed until such income is withdrawn from the investment account (i.e. the amount withdrawn from the account exceeds the amount which had been previously paid in to all investment accounts). Therefore, financial income held at the investment account may be reinvested tax-free until it is withdrawn from the account.

2. Taxation in Latvia

In general, in the case of transactions with financial instruments (securities), including bonds and transactions, a declared investment account shall not be used (Special requirements of Section 11.13 of the law of On Personal Income Tax), the procedure for applying the normal personal income tax to capital gains is then applicable, which provides for a quarterly or annual declaration of income from capital gains and a tax, since the return on disposal of capital assets (securities) is considered to be income from capital gains. Capital gains are determined by deducting the acquisition value from the disposal price of the capital asset, including expenses related to its acquisition. The tax rate for capital gains is 20%. The date of receipt of the income shall be deemed to be the day on which the payer receives the money or other matters.

The deadline for the submission of the declaration shall be based on the amount of revenue generated during the quarter:

- above EUR 1,000, the declaration shall be submitted quarterly by the 15 th of the following month;
- up to EUR 1,000 - the declaration shall be submitted by 15 th January of the following year.

On the other hand, if securities transactions are carried out using an investment account in accordance with the provisions of Section 11.13 of the Law On Personal Income Tax, the special principles for calculating personal income tax for transactions in an investment account shall be applied. In this case, income is classified as income from capital other than capital gains and a 20% tax rate applies to that type of income. The date on which the amount of money paid out from an investment account exceeds the amount of money paid into an investment account shall be considered as the date on which the income from the investment account was generated.

If an investment account is used to carry out transactions in securities, the income, if any, shall be declared in the annual income statement by completing Annex D1, "Income earned in the tax year for which the non-taxable minimum and benefits are not applied", and shall calculate the personal income tax to be paid.

Transactions in capital assets (securities) shall be based on supporting documents of revenue and expenditure (e.g. a credit institution's payment document justifying the size of the investments, or an account statement of the contributions made and the costs of the capital asset in question).

The Latvian law on "Enterprise Income Tax" prescribes that non-payment of corporation tax funds does not mean they do not have to deduct corporation tax from costs to non-residents. Such an enterprise income tax payer is the recipient of the income, not the fund itself. This will be important in the income receiving country, so that it is possible to reduce the enterprise income tax to be paid there in respect of the enterprise income tax withheld in Latvia or not in general, depending on the double taxation system.

The Latvian Enterprise Income Tax Law provides for withholding enterprise income tax from the following payments to non-residents:

- on management and advisory services — 20%;
- on the disposal of real estate in Latvia — 3%;
- payments to offshores – 20% (except for goods and securities for public circulation of the EU and the European Economic Area).

The Latvian fund should not choose a foreign company as a manager from a country with which Latvia does not have a tax convention, according to which it is possible to exempt management and advisory services from withholding tax.

3. Taxation in Lithuania

Tax Residents

An individual is a tax resident of Lithuania (resident individual) if his/her:

- (a) permanent place of residence in the relevant tax period is in Lithuania, or
- (b) whose personal, social or economic interests in the relevant tax period are located in Lithuania, or
- (c) who is present in Lithuania continuously or intermittently for at least 183 days in the relevant tax period, or at least 280 days in two consecutive tax periods and at least 90 days in one of these tax periods, or
- (d) who is a citizen of Lithuania and who does not meet any of the aforesaid criteria but for whom remuneration for the work carried out abroad is paid or costs of living abroad are covered by the Republic of Lithuania or any of the municipalities thereof.

The above are basic principles for determining tax residency of the individual; some additional ones are enshrined in the Law on Personal Income Tax of the Republic of Lithuania, which must be consulted in the particular case.

In case an individual spends significant time or has close personal and economical relationships with the foreign country as well, a double tax treaty concluded between the Republic of Lithuania and this country has to be consulted as it may hold specific provisions to determine tax residency for the individual.

An entity which is legally established in Lithuania is considered as having tax residency in Lithuania (resident entity). Taxation of interest income and capital gains received by non-resident entity acting through a permanent establishment in Lithuania is the same as that of resident entity defined above. Therefore, for relevant details on the taxation of Lithuanian permanent establishments as Holders of the Bonds, please refer to the taxation of resident entities.

Taxation of the Holders of the Bonds

Resident individuals

Individuals who are tax residents in Lithuania are in general subject to unlimited taxation with Lithuanian personal income tax (PIT) which applies to their worldwide income, including interest and capital gains, unless double tax treaties concluded by the Republic of Lithuania provide otherwise.

Interest from the Bonds (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Bonds) and capital gain from the disposal of the Bonds earned by a resident individual is subject to PIT at progressive tax rates of:

- (a) 15%, which applies if the total amount of annual worldwide income (excluding employment and employment related income, dividends, management board and supervisory board member's remuneration, income from individual entrepreneurship, income received under copyright contracts from a person related to the individual through employment or similar relations, income received under civil service agreements by directors of small partnerships who are not the members thereof) received by a resident individual does not exceed the amount of 120 Lithuanian gross average salaries, which are announced annually and slightly increases each year. For 2021 this figure equals to EUR 162,324;
- (b) 20%, which applies on annual income exceeding the threshold of 120 Lithuanian gross average salaries.

A part of the total annual amount of interest (including interest on Bonds) received by a resident individual during the calendar year up to the amount of EUR 500 is exempt from PIT. A part of the capital gains received by a resident individual from the sale of securities (including the Bonds) during the calendar year up to the amount of EUR 500 is also exempt from PIT. Both before-indicated tax reliefs will, inter alia, not apply if interest or disposal proceeds are received from entities established in a tax haven or from individuals whose permanent place of residence is in a tax haven.

Non-resident individuals

Individuals who are not tax residents in Lithuania and do not engage into individual commercial activity here are subject to limited taxation with PIT in Lithuania, which applies to particular kinds of income indicated in the Law on PIT, inter alia, on interest (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Bonds) if they are sourced in Lithuania. In such case interest will be subject to PIT at the same progressive rates and with regard to the same threshold as indicated in the section on Taxation of the Holders of the Bonds – resident individuals above, except the cases where particular double tax treaty concluded by the Republic of Lithuania provides for a lower tax rate.

The capital gain from the disposal of Bonds by the non-resident individual will not be subject to Lithuanian PIT.

Resident entities

Corporate entities which are tax residents in Lithuania are in general subject to unlimited taxation with Lithuanian corporate income tax (CIT) which applies to their worldwide income, including interest and capital gains, unless the commercial activities through a permanent establishment is conducted abroad or unless the double tax treaties concluded by the Republic of Lithuania with foreign states provide otherwise.

Interest from the Bonds (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Bonds) and capital gains from the disposal of the Bonds earned by a resident entity will be included into the taxable income of an entity and profit of such entity is to be taxed with 15% CIT (unless a reduced 0% or 5% CIT rate applies to a small enterprise under the Law on CIT) under the general taxation rules applicable. Banks and credit unions, including branches of foreign banks in Lithuania, for the fiscal years 2020 – 2022 shall pay additional 5% CIT on profits (subject to special calculation rules) exceeding EUR 2 million.

Non-resident entities

Non-resident entities which do not engage into commercial activity through permanent establishment in Lithuania are subject to limited taxation with CIT in Lithuania, which applies to particular kinds of income indicated in the Law on CIT, inter alia, on interest (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Bonds) if they are sourced in Lithuania.

The capital gain from the disposal of Bonds by the non-resident entity will not be subject to Lithuanian CIT unless such disposal is effectively related with the activities effected by that entity through its permanent establishment in Lithuania.

4. Taxation in the Federal Republic of Germany

Tax Residents

Persons (individuals and corporate entities) who are tax resident in Germany (in particular, persons whose residence, habitual abode, statutory seat or place of management is located in Germany) are subject to unlimited taxation (income tax or corporate income tax, in each case plus solidarity surcharge on the (corporate) income tax plus church tax and/or trade tax, if applicable). The unlimited tax liability applies to the worldwide income, regardless of its source, including interest on capital claims of any kind and, in general, capital gains. However, contrary provisions in German double taxation treaties may allocate a taxation right to another country.

Taxation if the Bonds are held as private assets

Should the Bonds be held as private assets by a domestic tax-resident individual investor, the interest paid on the Bonds and capital gains from the sale or redemption of the Bonds or the separate sale or redemption of interest claims are taxable at a uniform tax rate of 25 % (26,675 % including solidarity surcharge plus church tax, if applicable, the rate of which varies depending on the province). Capital gains/losses realised upon the sale or redemption of the Bonds are computed as the difference between the proceeds from the disposition or redemption (after deduction of actual expenses directly related thereto) and the issue or purchase price of the Bonds. If the respective income is paid through the banking system, which is the case if the Bonds are held in a custodial account which the owner of the Bonds maintains with a domestic branch of a German or non-German bank, a financial services institution, a domestic securities trading business or a domestic securities trading bank, the tax will be withheld at source, generally as a final burden. If the income is paid from elsewhere, e.g., from a foreign bank, and therefore no tax is withheld at source, the taxpayer must report the respective income in his tax return. The uniform tax rate charge will then be levied by assessment, independently of all other features of the taxpayer's situation. In certain cases, the investor may apply to be assessed on the basis of its actual personal tax rate if such rate is lower than the uniform tax rate of 25 %. However, within the scope of the withholding tax, a deduction of the actual income-related expenses (in excess of a lump-sum amount of 801 EUR or EUR 1,602 for married couples assessed together) is excluded. Losses from the sale of Bonds can only be offset against other capital gains income and, if there is not sufficient other positive capital gains income, carried forward in subsequent assessment periods. Losses, which have been subject to withholding tax as set out above can only be offset or carried forward if the disbursing agent issues a corresponding (loss) certificate pursuant to Sec. 43a para. 3 sentence 4, Sec. 45a para. 2 of the German Income Tax Act (Einkommensteuergesetz; EStG).

No German withholding tax will be levied if the investor has filed a withholding tax exemption certificate with the respective German disbursing agent, but only to the extent that the paid interest or the capital gain does not exceed the lump-sum amount as described above. Similarly no withholding tax will be levied, if the relevant investor has submitted a non-assessment certificate issued by the relevant local tax office

Taxation if the Bonds are held as business assets

For German tax resident corporations and domestic commercial investors, holding the Bonds as business assets, interest payments and capital gains will be subject to (corporate) income tax and, if applicable, trade tax. Business expenses related to the Bonds generally are deductible.

The corporate income tax rate including the solidarity surcharge amounts to 15,825 %. Commercial investors not being subject to corporate income tax are taxed at their personal income tax rate which amounts up to 45%. The trade tax rate for businesses being subject to German trade tax, depends on the municipality where the business is located. Furthermore, in the case of individuals, church tax may be levied.

For these investors, only the interest paid on Bonds is generally subject to the provisions regarding German withholding tax as set out above. No withholding tax is levied in the case of the sale or redemption of the Bonds or the separate sale or redemption of interest claims if the investor is a German corporation subject to unlimited taxation or the proceeds from the Bonds qualify as income of a domestic business and the investor notifies this to the German disbursing agent by use of the officially required form. However, levied withholding tax has no settling effect, i.e. any tax withheld is credited as prepayment against the German (corporate) income tax amount.

Non-residents

Persons who are not tax resident in Germany are not subject to tax with regard to income derived from the Bonds. This does not apply, if (i) the Bonds are held as business assets of a German permanent establishment or are attributable to a permanent representative of such person or (ii) the income from the Bonds is subject to German limited taxation for other reasons (e.g. the Bonds are, irrespective of certain exceptions, directly or indirectly secured by German real property or domestic rights subject to the real estate provisions of German civil law).

If a non-resident person is subject to tax with its income from the Bonds, similar rules apply as set out above with regard to German tax resident persons.

Application of the German withholding tax regime on the Issuer

The Issuer is not obliged under German tax law to levy German withholding tax in respect of payments on the Bonds. Therefore, the Issuer assumes no responsibility for the withholding of taxes at the source.

Investors are also advised to seek the reliable advice of their own tax advisor regarding the specific fiscal implications of the investment. Such advice cannot be replaced by the above explanations.

German Inheritance and Gift Tax

Generally German inheritance or gift taxes with respect to the Bonds will arise, if, in the case of inheritance tax, either the decedent or the beneficiary, or, in the case of gift tax, either the donor or the heir, is a resident of Germany or such Bond is attributable to a domestic business for which a permanent establishment is maintained or a permanent representative is appointed. This applies also to certain German citizens who previously maintained a residence in Germany.

5. Taxation in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg

Taxation of the Issuer

The Issuer will be considered a fiscal resident of Luxembourg from a Luxembourg tax law perspective and should therefore be able to obtain a residence certificate from the Luxembourg tax authorities.

The Issuer will be liable for Luxembourg corporation taxes. The current standard applicable rate in Luxembourg-City, including corporate income tax (impôt sur le revenu des collectivités), municipal business tax (impôt commercial communal) and solidarity taxes, is currently 24,94%. Liability for such corporation taxes extends to the Issuer's worldwide profits including capital gains, subject to the provisions of any relevant double taxation treaty. The taxable income of the Issuer is computed by application of all rules of the Luxembourg income tax law of 4 December 1967, as amended (loi concernant l'impôt sur le revenu), as commented on and currently applied by the Luxembourg tax authorities.

Under certain conditions, dividends received by the Issuer from qualifying participations and capital gains realised by the Issuer on the sale of qualifying participations may be exempt from Luxembourg corporation taxes under the Luxembourg participation exemption regime. The Issuer may further deduct from its taxable profits interest payments made to the holders of the Bonds to the extent that such interest exceeds any exempt income derived from participations financed with the Bonds and qualifying under the Luxembourg participation exemption regime. Furthermore, should the Bonds finance qualifying participations under the Luxembourg participation exemption regime, any interest having reduced the taxable basis of the Issuer may be subject to recapture upon disposal of the qualifying participations by reducing the exempt amount of capital gains.

A fixed registration duty (droit fixe d'enregistrement) of EUR 75 is payable at the moment that the Articles are amended.

It is not compulsory that the Bonds be filed, recorded or enrolled with any court, or other authority in Luxembourg or that registration tax, transfer tax, capital tax, stamp duty or any other similar tax or duty be paid in respect of or in connection with the execution, delivery and/or enforcement by legal proceedings (including any foreign judgment in the courts of Luxembourg) of the Bonds, in accordance therewith, except that, the Bonds are physically attached (annexé(s)) to a public deed or to any other document subject to mandatory registration in Luxembourg registration may be ordered which results in the application of a fixed registration duty (of EUR 12) or an ad valorem registration duty (of 0.24% calculated on the amounts mentioned in the Bonds).

Under certain conditions, the Issuer could be exempt from wealth tax (impôt sur la fortune) on certain assets, such as qualifying participations under the Luxembourg participation exemption regime. However the Issuer will in any case be liable for the minimum wealth tax of EUR 4,815 or a progressive minimum amount between EUR 535 and EUR 32,100, depending on the balance sheet total of the Issuer. The maximum amount of EUR 32,100 is applicable in the case of a balance sheet exceeding EUR 30 million.

Taxation of the Holders of the Bonds

Withholding tax

Non-resident Holders of the Bonds

Under Luxembourg general tax laws currently in force, there is no withholding tax on payments of principal, premium or interest made to non-resident holders of the Bonds, nor on accrued but unpaid interest in respect of the Bonds, nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of the Bonds held by non-resident holders of the Bonds.

Resident Holders of the Bonds

Under Luxembourg general tax laws currently in force and subject to the law of 23 December 2005, as amended (the "Law"), mentioned below, there is no withholding tax on payments of principal, premium or interest made to Luxembourg resident holders of the Bonds, nor on accrued but unpaid interest in respect of Bonds, nor is any Luxembourg withholding tax payable upon redemption or repurchase of Bonds held by Luxembourg resident holders of the Bonds.

Under the Law payments of interest or similar income made or ascribed by a paying agent established in Luxembourg to or for the benefit of an individual beneficial owner who is resident of Luxembourg will be subject to a withholding tax of 20%.

If the individual Holder holds the Bonds in the course of the management of his or her private wealth, the aforementioned 20% withholding tax will operate a full discharge of income tax due on such payments.

Responsibility for the withholding of the tax will be assumed by the Luxembourg paying agent. Payments of interest under the Bonds coming within the scope of the Law would be subject to withholding tax of 20%.

Income taxation

Holders of Bonds will not be deemed to be resident, domiciled or carrying on business in Luxembourg solely by reason of holding, execution, performance, delivery, exchange and/or enforcement of the Bonds.

Gains realised by a non-resident holder of Bonds, who does not have a permanent establishment or fixed place of business in Luxembourg, to which the Bonds are attributable, on the sale or disposal of Bonds are not subject to Luxembourg income tax.

Resident individual holder of the Bonds

An individual holder of the Bonds who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes or who has a permanent establishment or a fixed place of business in Luxembourg, to which the Bonds are attributable, is subject to Luxembourg income tax at progressive rates in respect of the interest paid or accrued on, or any other income derived from, the Bonds, except (a) if the holder is acting in the course of the management of his/her private wealth and the 20% withholding tax has been levied on such payments in accordance with the Law or (b) the individual holder of the Bonds has opted for the application of a 20% tax in full discharge of income tax in accordance with the Law, which applies if a payment of interest has been made or ascribed by a paying agent established in a EU Member State (other than Luxembourg), or in a Member State of the European Economic Area (other than a EU Member State).

Under Luxembourg domestic tax law, gains realised by an individual holder of the Bonds, who acts in the course of the management of his/her private wealth and who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes, on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of Bonds are not subject to Luxembourg income tax, provided this sale or disposal took place at least six months after the acquisition of the Bonds. An individual holder of Bonds, who acts in the course of the management of his private wealth and who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes, must however include the portion of the gain corresponding to accrued but unpaid interest in respect of the Bonds in his taxable income, except if: (a) withholding tax has been levied on such payments in accordance with the Law; or (b) the individual holders of the Bonds has opted for the application of a 20% tax in full discharge of income tax in accordance with the Law, which applies if a payment of interest has been made or ascribed by a paying agent established in an EU Member State (other than Luxembourg), or in a Member State of the European Economic Area (other than an EU Member State).

The 20% withholding tax is the final tax liability for the Luxembourg individual resident taxpayers receiving the interest payment in the framework of their private wealth.

Resident corporate holder of Bonds

Gains realised by a corporate holder of the Bonds, who acts in the course of the management of a professional or business undertaking, who is a resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes or who has a permanent establishment or a fixed place of business in Luxembourg, to which the Bonds are attributable, on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of the Bonds are subject to Luxembourg income tax and municipal business tax.

A Luxembourg holder of Bonds that is governed by the law of 11 May 2007 on family estate companies, as amended, by the law of 17 December 2010 on undertakings for collective investment, as amended, by the law of 13 February 2007 on specialised investment funds, as amended, or by the law of 23 July 2016 relating to reserved alternative investment funds, as amended (the “RAIF Law”), provided it is not foreseen in the incorporation documents that (i) the exclusive object is the investment in risk capital and that (ii) article 48 of the aforementioned RAIF Law applies, will not be subject to any Luxembourg corporation taxes in respect of interest received or accrued on the Bonds, or on gains realised on the sale or disposal, in any form whatsoever, of Bonds.

Net Wealth Tax

A corporate holder of the Bonds, whether resident of Luxembourg for tax purposes or maintaining a permanent establishment or a permanent representative in Luxembourg to which the Bonds are attributable, is subject to Luxembourg wealth tax on the Bonds, except if the holder of the Bonds is governed by the law of 11 May 2007 on family estate companies, as amended, by the law of 17 December 2010 on undertakings for collective investment, as amended, by the law of 13 February 2007 on specialised investment funds, as amended, by the RAIF Law, provided it is not foreseen in the incorporation documents that (i) the exclusive object is the investment in risk capital and that (ii) article 48 of the aforementioned RAIF Law applies or is a securitisation company governed by the law of 22 March 2004 on securitisation, as amended, or a capital company governed by the law of 15 June 2004 on venture capital vehicles, as amended.

Since 1 January 2016, (i) securitization companies governed by the amended law of 22 March 2004 on securitization and (ii) investment companies in risk capital (SICAR) governed by the law of 15 June 2004 are subject to an annual minimum net wealth tax. Under certain conditions, reserved alternative investment funds governed by the law of 23 July 2016 and which fall under the special tax regime set out under article 48 thereof may be subject to minimum net wealth tax.

An individual holder of the Bonds, whether he/she is resident of Luxembourg or not, is not subject to Luxembourg wealth tax on the Bonds.

Other Taxes

There is no Luxembourg value added tax payable in respect of payments in consideration for the issuance of the Bonds or in respect of the payment of interest or principal under the Bonds or the transfer of the Bonds. Luxembourg value added tax may, however, be payable in respect of fees charged for certain services rendered to the Issuer, if for Luxembourg value added tax purposes such services are rendered or are deemed to be rendered in Luxembourg and an exemption from Luxembourg value added tax does not apply with respect to such services.

Under present Luxembourg tax law, in the case where a holder of the Bonds is a resident for tax purposes of Luxembourg at the time of his death, the Bonds are included in his taxable estate, for inheritance tax purposes and gift tax may be due on a gift or donation of the Bonds, if the gift is recorded in a Luxembourg deed passed in front of a Luxembourg notary or recorded in Luxembourg.

6. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

Pursuant to certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986 the U.S. Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act, commonly known as FATCA, a "foreign financial institution" may be required to withhold a 30% withholding tax on certain payments it makes ("foreign passthru payments") to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting, or related requirements. A number of jurisdictions (including Luxembourg) have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA ("IGAs"), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Certain aspects of the application of the FATCA provisions and IGAs to instruments such as the Bonds, including whether withholding would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Bonds, are uncertain and may be subject to change.

Even if withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Bonds, such withholding would not apply prior to two years after the date on which final regulations defining "foreign passthru payments" are filed with the U.S. Federal Register.

While the Bonds are in global form and held within Euroclear Bank SA/NV or Clearstream Banking S.A.(together the "ICSDs"), it is expected that FATCA will not affect the amount of any payments made under, or in respect of, the Bonds by the Issuer and any paying agent, given that each of the entities in the payment chain between the Issuer and the participants in the ICSDs is a major financial institution whose business is dependent on compliance with FATCA and that any alternative approach introduced under an IGA will be unlikely to affect the Bonds. The documentation expressly contemplates the possibility that the Bonds may go into definitive form and therefore that they may be taken out of the ICSDs. If this were to happen, then a non-FATCA compliant holder could be subject to FATCA Withholding. However, definitive Bonds will only be printed in remote circumstances.

In the event any withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on the Bonds, Holders will not receive any Additional Amount in respect of such withholding, and Holders will therefore receive less than the amount that they would have otherwise have received on such Bonds.

FATCA is particularly complex and its application is uncertain at this time. The above description is based in part on regulations, official guidance and model IGAs, all of which are subject to change or may be implemented in a materially different form. Prospective investors should consult their tax advisors on how these rules may apply to payments they may receive in connection with the Bonds.

XVIII. LIMITATIONS ON VALIDITY AND ENFORCEABILITY OF THE GUARANTEES, TRANSACTION SECURITY DOCUMENTS AND THE BONDS AND CERTAIN
INSOLVENCY CONSIDERATIONS

Set out below is a summary of certain limitations on the enforceability of the Bonds, Guarantees and the Transaction Security Documents in the jurisdictions in which the Issuer, the Guarantors and the Pledgors are organized or incorporated. It is a summary only, and bankruptcy proceedings, restructuring proceedings, insolvency proceedings or other similar proceedings could be initiated in any of these jurisdictions and in the jurisdiction of organization of a future guarantor of the Bonds. In addition, as further described below, the COMI of the Issuer or a Guarantor may be determined to be different than its jurisdiction of incorporation. See “Risk Factors—Risk Factors Relating to the Bonds—Relevant insolvency and administrative laws may not be as favorable to creditors, including Holders, as insolvency laws of the jurisdictions in which you are familiar and may limit your ability to enforce your rights under the Bonds and the Guarantees and the Issuer and the Guarantors are subject to risks relating to the location of their center of main interest (“COMI”).” The application of these various laws in multiple jurisdictions could trigger disputes over which jurisdiction’s law should apply and could adversely affect your ability to enforce your rights and to collect payment in full under the Bonds and the Guarantees. Also set forth below is a brief description of certain aspects of insolvency laws in the jurisdictions of incorporation of the Issuer, Guarantors and the Pledgors.

1. European Union

Several of the Guarantors are organized under the laws of EU Member States.

Pursuant to the EU Insolvency Regulation, the court which shall have jurisdiction to open insolvency proceedings in relation to a company is the court of the EU Member State (other than Denmark) where the company concerned has its “center of main interests” (as that term is used in Article 3(1) of the EU Insolvency Regulation). The determination of where any such company has its “center of main interests” is a question of fact on which the courts of the different EU Member States may have differing and even conflicting views.

The term “center of main interests” is not a static concept and may change from time to time. See “Risk Factors—Risk Factors Relating to the Bonds—Relevant insolvency and administrative laws may not be as favorable to creditors, including Holders, as insolvency laws of the jurisdictions in which you are familiar and may limit your ability to enforce your rights under the Bonds and the Guarantees and the Issuer and the Guarantors are subject to risks relating to the location of their center of main interest (“COMI”).” Although there is a rebuttable presumption under Article 3(1) of the EU Insolvency Regulation that any such company has its “center of main interests” in the EU Member State in which it has its registered office, Preamble 13 of the EU Insolvency Regulation states that the “center of main interests” of a debtor should correspond to the place where the debtor conducts the administration of its interests on a regular basis and “is therefore ascertainable by third parties.” In that respect, factors such as where board meetings are held, the location where the company conducts the majority of its business and the location where the large majority of the company’s creditors are established may all be relevant in the determination of the place where the company has its “center of main interests,” with the company’s “center of main interests” at the time of initiation of the relevant insolvency proceedings being not only decisive for the international jurisdiction of the courts of a certain Member State, but also for the insolvency laws applicable to these insolvency proceedings as each court would, subject to certain exemptions, apply its local insolvency laws (lex fori concursus).

If the “center of main interests” of a company is and will remain located in the state in which it has its registered office, the main insolvency proceedings in respect of the company under the EU Insolvency Regulation would be commenced in such jurisdiction and accordingly a court in such jurisdiction would be entitled to commence the types of insolvency proceedings referred to in Annex A to the EU Insolvency Regulation. Insolvency proceedings opened in one EU Member State under the EU Insolvency Regulation are to be recognized in the other EU Member States (other than Denmark), although secondary proceedings may be opened in another EU Member State. If the “center of main interests” of a debtor is in one EU Member State (other than Denmark) under Article 3(2) of the EU Insolvency Regulation, the courts of another EU Member State (other than Denmark) have jurisdiction to open “territorial proceedings” only in the event that such debtor has an “establishment” in the territory of such other EU Member State. The effects of those territorial proceedings are restricted to the assets of the debtor situated in the territory of such other EU Member State. If the company does not have an establishment in any other EU Member State, no court of any other EU Member State has jurisdiction to open territorial proceedings in respect of such company under the EU Insolvency Regulation. Irrespective of whether the insolvency proceedings are main or territorial proceedings, such proceedings will always, subject to certain exemptions, be governed by the lex fori concursus, i.e., the local insolvency law of the court which has assumed jurisdiction for the insolvency proceedings of the debtor.

In the event that the Issuer or any provider of collateral experiences financial difficulty, it is not possible to predict with certainty in which jurisdiction or jurisdictions insolvency or similar proceedings will be commenced, or the outcome of such proceedings. Applicable insolvency laws may affect the enforceability of the obligations of the Issuer and Guarantors and the collateral provided by the Issuer or any other company. The insolvency, administration and other laws of the jurisdictions in which the respective companies are organized or operate may be materially different from, or conflict with, each other and there is no assurance as to how the insolvency laws of the potentially involved jurisdictions will be applied in relation to one another.

2. Luxembourg

Insolvency

In the event that the Issuer becomes insolvent, insolvency proceedings (e.g., in particular, bankruptcy proceedings (faillite), controlled management proceedings (gestion contrôlée) and composition proceedings with creditors (concordat préventif de la faillite)) may be opened in Luxembourg to the extent that the Issuer has its center of main interest located in Luxembourg or an establishment in Luxembourg within the meaning the EU Insolvency Regulation (in relation to secondary proceedings assuming in this case that the center of main interests is located in a jurisdiction where the EU Insolvency Regulation is applicable). If a Luxembourg court having jurisdiction commences bankruptcy proceedings against the Issuer, all enforcement measures against such companies will be suspended, except, subject to certain limited exceptions, for enforcement by secured creditors. Holders will thus not be able to enforce the Guarantee once bankruptcy proceedings have commenced.

In addition, the Holders’ ability to receive payment on the Bonds may be affected by a decision of a Luxembourg court to grant a stay on payments (sursis de paiement) as provided by articles 593 et seq of the Luxembourg Code of Commerce or to put the Issuer into judicial liquidation (liquidation judiciaire) pursuant to article 1200-1 of Luxembourg Company Law. Judicial liquidation proceedings may be opened at the request of the public prosecutor against companies pursuing an activity violating criminal laws or that are in serious breach or violation of the Luxembourg Code of Commerce or of the laws governing commercial companies, including Luxembourg Company Law and those laws governing authorization to do business.

Liability of the Issuer in respect of the Bonds will, in each case, in the event of a liquidation of the relevant company following bankruptcy or judicial liquidation proceedings, only rank after the cost of liquidation (including any debt incurred for the purpose of such liquidation) and those other debts that are entitled to priority under Luxembourg law.

Preferential debts under Luxembourg law include, among others:

- certain amounts owed to the Luxembourg Revenue Office;
- value-added tax and other taxes and duties owed to the Luxembourg Customs and Excise Agency;
- social security contributions; and
- remuneration owed to employees.

Luxembourg insolvency laws may also affect transactions entered into or payments made by the relevant Luxembourg company during the period before bankruptcy, the so-called “hardening period” (période suspecte) which is a maximum of six months (and ten days, depending on the transaction in question) preceding the judgment declaring bankruptcy, except that in certain specific situations the court may set the start of the hardening period at an earlier date pursuant to article 613 of the Luxembourg Code of Commerce.

In addition to the above, it should be noted that on 1 February 2013, the Luxembourg government has filed a bill to reorganize the Luxembourg insolvency proceedings. However, it cannot be foreseen when such bill will be passed by the Luxembourg Parliament and become law. As the bill may be substantially amended during the legislative process, the impact of the new law on the liability of the Issuer in respect of the Bonds cannot be foreseen at the present time.

3. Estonia

The fulfilment of obligations of the Guarantors under the Estonian Transaction Security Documents is subject to applicable laws relating to insolvency, bankruptcy, restructuring (saneerimine), force majeure, fundamental change of circumstances (rebus sic stantibus) and other laws capable of affecting creditors’ rights generally from time to time in effect, as well as the applicable prescription terms under the Estonian law, and the parties to Estonian Transaction Security Documents would be debarred from application of Estonian Transaction Security Documents in contravention to the Estonian law.

Upon institution of bankruptcy or restructuring proceedings against the Guarantor, the courts of Estonia may acquire exclusive jurisdiction over the case involving the Guarantor, regardless of the agreement of the parties to the contrary and refuse to recognize and/or enforce (or stop or postpone the enforcement thereof) as valid, final and conclusive judgment against the Guarantor in accordance with applicable EU law.

Restructuring proceedings

The ability to receive payments on the Bonds under the Guarantee issued by an Estonian entity may be negatively affected if restructuring proceedings are initiated against the Guarantor. The restructuring proceedings aim to allow companies with financial difficulties, and which have not yet discontinued their economic and commercial activities, to maintain and develop these activities, settle their debts and avoid bankruptcy. The restructuring process may be commenced provided certain conditions under Estonian law are met, including that the sustainable management of the company is likely after the restructuring and the position of creditors would, with reasonable likelihood, be more beneficial compared to their position in case of bankruptcy. After the restructuring is commenced and until the approval of the restructuring plan, among others, the enforcement proceedings executed by a bailiff are, as a rule, suspended, calculation of default interest is suspended, court proceedings against the company for the performance of payment obligations may be suspended and deciding on the commencement of bankruptcy proceedings based on a creditor's application is suspended.

The restructuring plan may include rules for the transformation of claims, including extension of payment terms and reduction of debt amounts. As a general rule, the restructuring plan must be accepted by the creditors (by way of voting, subject to certain majority requirements) and approved by the court. Under certain conditions, the court may approve the restructuring plan even if it was not accepted by the creditors (including that less than half of the creditors voted on the restructuring plan).

The restructuring plan may be revoked by the court, should the debtor fail to perform its obligations stipulated in the restructuring plan to a material extent. In that case creditors' claims shall be restored in the initial amount, subject to respective deduction if any payments were effected during the restructuring process.

Bankruptcy proceedings

In case of institution of bankruptcy proceedings against the Guarantor, the court will appoint a bankruptcy trustee who shall assume control over the assets of the Guarantor. Bankruptcy proceedings may result in the revocation of the Transaction Security (in case the bankruptcy trustee brings a corresponding action and sufficiently proves to the court that granting of the Transaction Security harmed the interests of other creditors of the Guarantor) and considering that the costs of bankruptcy proceedings shall be covered prior to satisfaction of any claims of creditors, including those of preferred rank creditors, bankruptcy proceedings may have several negative impacts.

The bankruptcy trustee may choose to dispute the pledges – grounds and arguments for doing so depend on the particular trustee (e.g. the trustee may claim in a particular case that the pledge agreement is invalid, etc.). Such decision of the bankruptcy trustee can be challenged in court by the secured creditors.

The bankruptcy trustee shall organize the sale of the assets of the company.

Proceeds from the sale of the assets pledged as the Transaction Security would be allocated (i) firstly, for the settlement of the costs of bankruptcy proceedings (but not more than 15 per cent from the proceeds) and (ii) secondly, for the settlement of the claims of creditors which claims were secured with particular pledges, but not exceeding the amount of the Transaction Security. Accordingly, secured creditors are regarded as first rank creditors with regard to proceeds received from the sale of the respective pledged assets. In case the funds received from the sale of the pledged property do not cover the claims of the secured creditor, then the creditor shall acquire the status of a non-secured (i.e. second rank) creditor regarding the unsatisfied part of the claim.

The court shall determine the exact amount of the fee payable to the bankruptcy trustee. However, according to Estonian law, in any case the fee shall not, as a rule, be less than 1 per cent of the funds which have been received and included in the bankruptcy estate as a result of the sale and recovery of the bankruptcy estate and other activities of the bankruptcy trustee.

Limitations for granting Guarantees and sureties

Under Estonian law, a person engaged in an economic or professional activity (guarantor) may, by a contract, assume an obligation (Guarantee), according to which the person undertakes to perform obligations arising from the Guarantee on the demand of the obligee. However, financial assistance restrictions apply. While a subsidiary may guarantee debt obligations of its parent undertaking if this does not harm the financial status of the subsidiary or the interests of creditors, the subsidiary may not guarantee debt obligations for the acquisition of its share. Violation of this restriction does not result in the nullity of the transaction, but the parent undertaking must compensate for the damage caused to the company by the provision of the security. The management of the subsidiary may also be held liable for the damages caused by the breach.

If the Estonian Guarantor goes bankrupt and the Issuer has not yet become obligated to fulfill under the Bonds, enforcement of the Guarantee in respect of that Guarantor may become restricted. Among other, (i) there is a risk that the Guarantee may be revoked if insolvency proceedings of the Guarantor are initiated and (ii) even if the Guarantee is not revoked, creditors demanding performance of the Guarantee obligations shall not be regarded as preferred creditors (i.e. their claims shall be satisfied pro rata with other unsecured creditors). The bankruptcy trustee is obliged to examine agreements entered into by an insolvent company in order to establish, among other, whether these transactions have been detrimental to the interests of the company's creditors. If the bankruptcy trustee finds that the agreement in question has caused loss to the company (e.g., sale of assets under market value or granting certain rights without consideration), the bankruptcy trustee is entitled to bring an action against the other party to the agreement for revocation of such an agreement. Revocation of the agreement is decided by the court.

Moreover, intra-group transactions, including those granting the security to parent companies, subsidiaries or affiliated companies have to be concluded on an arm's length basis.

Distinction between a guarantee and a surety

Estonian law distinguishes between a Guarantee and a surety. The liability of a guarantor under a Guarantee does not depend on the validity of the principal secured obligation (despite that the latter is indicated in the Guarantee) and is limited to the amount indicated in the guarantee (if any). The guarantor's obligation to pay under the Guarantee arises in accordance with the terms of the Guarantee. The guarantor's liability is several. In case the security is qualified as a surety, the liability of the surety provider under the surety is joint and several (i.e. solidary). If an obligation subject to suretyship is secured by a right of security established with regard to the property of the principal obligor or if the creditor may exercise a right of security with regard to the property of the principal obligor, the surety may, until the principal obligor is declared bankrupt, require the creditor to satisfy the claim thereof out of the pledged property to the extent of the pledge.

4. Moldova

The fulfillment of obligations of ICM under the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents is subject to the Moldovan laws relating to insolvency, bankruptcy, restructuring, force majeure, fundamental change of circumstances and other laws capable of affecting creditors' rights generally from time to time in effect. The parties to Moldovan Transaction Security Documents would be debarred from application of Moldovan Transaction Security Documents if in contradiction with Moldovan law.

Insolvency proceedings

The insolvency proceedings under the Moldovan legislation are regulated by the law no. 149 dated 29 June 2019. Pursuant to this insolvency law, the court, which shall have the jurisdiction to open the insolvency procedure in relation to a company, is specialized in insolvency proceedings and a first-level court within the area ICM has its registered address.

The reasons for the opening of insolvency proceedings against ICM are either (i) the illiquidity of ICM, in case ICM is unable to pay its debts that become due and (ii) the over indebtedness of ICM, meaning the financial situation of ICM, which liability is limited by law to a certain amount of the patrimony or in case the value of the assets of ICM do not cover its liabilities.

In case of an insolvency procedure, all creditors are required to meet in a creditors' committee and decide upon the procedure of insolvency.

The following types of creditors are regulated by the insolvency law in insolvency procedures:

- a) secured creditors (the creditors holding a contractual or statutory pledge in any assets of the insolvent entity, created prior to the insolvency proceedings); and
- b) unsecured creditors, including (i) creditors with general unsecured claims and (ii) creditors with inferior rank unsecured claims.

The secured creditors enjoy the right of prior satisfaction of the principal interest and related costs from the proceeds of sale of the pledged assets. The Moldovan Transaction Security Documents shall be considered as a secured claim and shall rank prior to unsecured claims of creditors and creditors with inferior unsecured claims.

If any of the insolvency proceedings are initiated against ICM, the ability to receive payments under the Bonds secured by the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents may be negatively affected. The petition to the insolvency court may be filed by any of the creditor or ICM itself.

In case of the opening of an insolvency procedure by the insolvency court against ICM, the insolvency court will appoint an insolvency administrator (trustee). The insolvency administrator shall be appointed by the insolvency court in both possible procedures of insolvency.

The opening of insolvency proceedings may lead to (i) bankruptcy, with the purpose of liquidation the debtor's assets and satisfying the liabilities or (ii) the restructuring of the debtor involving the preparation, approval, implementation and enforcement of a plan to show the financial and economic difficulties of the debtor. An accelerated restructuring procedure is also available in certain circumstances, in case the debtor is in a financial difficulty, but does not meet the conditions for opening an insolvency procedure.

Restructuring proceedings

The ability to receive payments on the Bonds secured by the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents may be negatively affected if the restructuring proceedings are initiated against ICM.

The restructuring plan may include rules of claims transformation, including the extension of payment terms and the reduction of debt amounts. As a general rule, the restructuring plan must be accepted by the creditors (by way of voting) and approved by the insolvency court.

The restructuring procedure depends on the will of the creditors and aims to allow companies with financial difficulties, and which have not yet discontinued their economic and commercial activities, to maintain and develop these activities and settle their debts, which implies the approval of a plan to change the situation of the debtor, so that its activity will not be stopped. In case this procedure fails and the debtor does not show positive returns for the financial statement, the insolvency court will decide upon applying and initiating the bankruptcy procedure.

The restructuring process may be initiated, given that certain conditions under the Moldovan law are met, including the sustainable management of the company is likely to be restored after the restructuring.

After the restructuring is commenced and until the approval of the restructuring plan, any enforcement proceeding initiated by a bailiff, calculation of default interest, and court proceedings against the debtor for performance of payment obligations should be suspended. The restructuring plan may be revoked by the insolvency court, in case the debtor fails to perform its obligations stipulated in the restructuring plan to a material extent.

Bankruptcy proceedings

The bankruptcy procedure shall be applied to the debtor, when the financial statements of the debtor do not show any possible recoveries or it can be taken by decision of the creditors. In this case, the liquidation of the debtor's patrimony will take place in order to cover the liability.

Bankruptcy proceedings may result in the revocation of the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents (in case the insolvency administrator brings a corresponding action and sufficiently proves to the insolvency court that granting of the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents harmed the interests or other creditors of ICM) and considering that the costs of the insolvency procedure (in general) shall be covered prior to satisfaction of any claims of creditors, including those of prior ranking creditors, bankruptcy proceedings may have several negative effects.

Upon initiation of bankruptcy or restructuring proceedings against ICM, the insolvency court may exclusively decide over the case involving ICM, regardless of contrary agreements of the parties.

If the relevant insolvency court initiates bankruptcy proceedings against ICM, all enforcement measures against the Moldovan debtor will be suspended, except subject to certain limited exceptions. It will not be possible to enforce outside insolvency procedure the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents once bankruptcy proceedings is ongoing.

In the bankruptcy proceedings, the insolvency administrator shall organize the sale of the assets of ICM. He may choose to dispute the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents and other securities created by ICM under any provisions established by the Moldovan insolvency law. In particular, the insolvency administrator may challenge: (i) any illegal act of ICM concluded within the last 3 years prior to the insolvency procedure, (ii) gratuitous transfers performed by ICM within the last 3 years prior to the insolvency procedure (with some exceptions), (iii) transactions performed by ICM within the last 3 years prior to insolvency procedure, within which the debtor's obligations are clearly too excessive and (iv) transfer of property of ICM to a creditor for executing a debt, within the last 4 months prior to insolvency procedure, which increased the amount to be received by the creditor after the debtor's liquidations.

With regard to the pledge, under the Moldovan insolvency law, a pledge registered within the last 4 months prior the opening of the insolvency proceeding, shall be declared void upon request of the insolvency administrator or any creditor. However, the insolvency administrator is obliged to examine agreements entered into by ICM in order to establish, among others, whether these transactions have been detrimental to the interests of its creditors. If the insolvency administrator finds that the agreement in question has caused loss to ICM (i.e. sale of assets under the market value or granting certain rights without consideration), the insolvency administrator is entitled to bring an action against the other party of the agreement in order to revoke such an agreement. The insolvency court decides upon the revocation of the agreement.

Proceeds from the sale of the pledged assets created under the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents would be allocated (i) firstly, for the settlement of the costs of bankruptcy proceedings and (ii) secondly, for the settlement of the claims of secured creditors, but no exceeding the amount of the Moldovan Transaction Security Documents.

5. Albania

The fulfilment of obligations of the Guarantors under the Albanian Transaction Security Documents is subject to applicable laws relating to bankruptcy, company law, banking regulations applicable to non-bank financial institutions in Albania and other laws capable of affecting creditors' rights generally from time to time in effect, as well as the applicable statute of limitations terms under Albanian law.

Limitations under company law

Pursuant to the Albanian legal provisions, an Albanian commercial company (a joint stock or limited liability company) is permitted to enter into agreements and constitute rights and obligations only to the extent such agreements correspond to its corporate purpose, as set out in its articles of association.

The Albanian legal provisions do not contain any specific limitation applicable to the granting of intra-group security interests/guarantees, provided that such creation of security interests/Guarantees receives adequate corporate approval based on the corporate acts of the company acknowledging the corporate benefit of the guarantor in giving the Guarantee.

Certain legal provisions applicable to Albanian limited liability companies (SHPK), set out the general principle of corporate assets' preservation. According to this principle, the directors of a limited liability company are obliged to check the company's degree of solvency before issuing the certificate of payment of dividends. Specifically, a limited liability company can pay out dividends in favor of its shareholders only if after such payment the assets of the company still fully cover its obligations and the company has adequate liquidity to pay its financial obligations due within the coming 12 months. This limitation is also extended to any type of distribution rendered by a company in favor of its shareholders, based on an agreement entered into between the company and the shareholder, if such agreement provides for conditions which are less favorable to the company if compared to market conditions.

On the other hand, the Albanian company law on joint stock companies (SHA) prohibits concealed distributions by requiring that the remuneration for any legal transactions undertaken by the company and its shareholder beyond his contribution may not exceed the market value of such transactions. By virtue of the law, shareholders are obliged to return to the company any advantage received contrary to the provisions of this law. This includes dividends received, if shareholders knew or ought to have known that these dividends or other advantages were received contrary to the law.

The above provisions altogether, provide a remote risk that intra-group Guarantees may qualify as concealed distributions for shareholders granted in contravention of the law and thus may only be created if the conditions for the distribution of dividends are met, however this risk is not tested by Albanian courts.

The violation of the legal restrictions referred to above does not immediately result in the nullity of the transaction, but the shareholder of the guarantor must compensate for the damage caused to the company by the provision of the security. The management of the subsidiary may also be held liable for the damages caused by the breach. In addition, in respect of joint stock companies, when the company has, during a period of 1 year before the opening of insolvency proceedings, repaid loans to the shareholders or has entered into other transactions that, from an economic perspective are similar to that of a loan (which may include Guarantees), the shareholder to whom the loan has been repaid, must return to the company the loan amounts paid the later.

Bankruptcy proceedings

The fulfilment of obligations of the Guarantors under the Albanian Transaction Security Documents may be limited by applicable legislation on bankruptcy in Albania.

In case of an insolvency of the Albanian Guarantor, the bankruptcy proceedings against the guarantor may be instituted by the debtor or any of the creditors of the Guarantor. Once the insolvency proceedings have been opened, secured and unsecured creditors cannot enforce their claims outside the insolvency proceedings. All claims against the insolvent debtor are suspended and writs of execution in respect of securities granted (such as securing charge over receivables or bank accounts) cannot be enforced. All new and pending claims are then submitted to the insolvency administrator appointed by the court.

The insolvency administrator obtains control over any immovable property and/or any movable property in the possession of the debtor (Guarantor) at the date the insolvency proceeding is opened. The administrator cannot sell any assets that are used as collateral if the value of such assets is lower or equal to the amount owed to the secured creditor and the execution expenses.

In case the insolvency administrator decides not to dispose the assets, or in case the court, upon the request of the secured creditor, decides to remove certain restrictions provided by the insolvency law noted above, the secured creditor may commence or continue to enforce the security outside of the insolvency proceeding (although this procedure is not tested by Albanian courts).

Once the bankruptcy procedure has been initiated, (i) the insolvent Guarantor can approve the reorganization plan aiming the survival of the company or (ii) the company can be liquidated.

The ranking of creditors in case of liquidation of the borrower is the following:

- secured creditors up to the value of the collateral;
- preferred creditors (i.e. employees' claims for dismissal, work and health matters, tax obligations, etc.) subject to conditions and restrictions on amounts;
- unsecured creditors' claims;
- other creditors related to for example penalties as per Civil Code, Criminal Code, penalties for late payments accrued in respect of creditors' claims before initiation of the bankruptcy procedure;

- shareholders' claims.

The enforcement of the Guarantee/security instruments in bankruptcy proceedings may also be limited by the right of the insolvency administrator to challenge any transaction concluded by the insolvent debtor (guarantor) within 2 years prior to the opening of the bankruptcy proceedings if such transaction has (i) caused economic damage to the debtor or (ii) given unjustified preferential rights to a certain creditor.

An economic damage exists in such cases when the debtor enters into transactions the compensation for which is lower than equivalent benefit given by its counterparty to the contract. Such damage must be generally proved by the insolvency creditor challenging the transaction, within 3 years from the opening of the bankruptcy proceedings. There is a presumption of damage for transactions entered into with 'related persons' which include 'companies of the same group'.

The effects of the aforementioned claw-back provision are inter alia to remove securities granted to the creditors of the guarantor in financing transactions. The creditor and insolvent debtor have the burden of proof to prove that the transaction did not bring an economic damage to the debtor.

The Albanian insolvency court would also evaluate in a claw back claim (i) the good faith of the debtor in entering the transaction in order to continue its activity and if the debtor has reasonable grounds to believe that it would benefit from the transaction or (ii) the actions undertaken by the debtor within the framework of its normal activity or professional activity, under normal terms and conditions.

6. North Macedonia

The fulfilment of obligations of the Security Providers under Macedonian Transaction Security Documents may be affected or limited by applicable laws relating to bankruptcy, reorganization, enforcement, account blockade, operations of financial companies and/or other laws capable of affecting creditors' rights generally from time to time in effect, including protective measures imposed by governmental bodies and institutions.

Bankruptcy proceedings

In case of opened bankruptcy proceedings against a Security Provider from North Macedonia, the court will appoint a bankruptcy trustee who shall assume control over the business and assets of such Security Provider. Any enforcement procedure initiated based on a Transaction Security Document shall be stopped with the opening of the bankruptcy proceedings. In order to protect the interests of the creditors before the opening of bankruptcy proceedings, the court may appoint a temporary bankruptcy trustee, ban payments from the bank account, impose general ban on disposal with the property and/or ban or temporarily postpone the enforcement against the Security Provider.

The opening of bankruptcy proceedings may have several negative impacts, including the annulment of the Transaction Security provided by the local Security Provider. In particular, the bankruptcy trustee and creditors can request the annulment of payments or other legal actions and the return of any object of disposal made by the local Security Provider in a certain period prior to the commencement of the bankruptcy proceeding, up to 10 years backward. Some of these actions include legal transactions taken within 90 days before filing the petition on opening a bankruptcy proceeding, which provide security or settlement to a creditor, if the local Security Provider was insolvent at the time of taking this action and/or the creditor knew that the legal transaction harms the other creditors. Further, a legal transaction entered into or taken with the intent to damage one or more creditors within 10 years before submitting the petition for initiating bankruptcy proceeding or after that may be contested if the counterparty of the local Security Provider knew of such intent. If a challenge in the bankruptcy proceedings is successful, the creditor has to return the entire challenged amount to the insolvency estate, whilst it remains entitled to claim the appropriate indemnification amount in accordance with its ranking in the insolvency estate.

The bankruptcy trustee shall organize the sale of the assets of the bankruptcy debtor for the purpose of creditors' settlement. Proceeds from the sale of assets would be allocated in the following order:

- (i) costs of the bankruptcy procedure, followed by the obligations of the bankruptcy estate;
- (ii) claims of the bankruptcy debtor's employees for wages, mandatory contributions for the last three months prior to the opening of the bankruptcy proceedings, including any compensations for injuries or occupational disease and other employment related claims;
- (iii) other claims towards the bankruptcy debtor from its creditors;
- (iv) interest on the claims of the creditors that are due after the date of opening of the bankruptcy proceedings, costs for participation in the bankruptcy proceedings, etc.

Notwithstanding the above, creditors secured with specific assets of the bankruptcy debtor (mortgagees and pledgees), are entitled to separate settlement, out of the proceeds from realization of the secured asset. Accordingly, secured creditors are regarded as first rank creditors with regard to proceeds from the sale of the respective pledged assets. In case the funds received from the sale of the pledged property do not cover the claims of the secured creditor, the creditor shall acquire the status of a non-secured creditor regarding the unsatisfied part of the claim.

The bankruptcy trustee is obliged to examine agreements entered into by the bankruptcy debtor in order to establish, among others, whether these transactions have been detrimental to the interests of the company's creditors. If the bankruptcy trustee finds that the agreement in question has caused loss to the company or to the other company's creditors, the bankruptcy trustee is entitled to bring an action against the other party to the agreement for the annulment of such an agreement. The annulment of the agreement is decided by the court.

Reorganization proceedings

The ability to receive payments under the Macedonian Transaction Security Documents may be negatively affected if reorganization proceedings are initiated against the local Security Provider. The bankruptcy debtor, the creditors or the bankruptcy trustee can submit a reorganization plan before or after the opening of bankruptcy proceedings.

The reorganization plan may include rules for the transformation of claims, including extension of payment terms and reduction of debt amounts. The reorganization plan must be accepted by the creditors (by way of voting) and approved by the court. The reduced claims or extended timeframes for payment under the reorganization plan shall not be binding for the respective creditors, should the debtor fail to perform its obligations stipulated in the reorganization plan to a material extent. In that case, creditors' claims shall be restored in the initial amount.

7. Bosnia and Herzegovina

The fulfilment of obligations of the Guarantor under the Bosnian Guarantee may be affected or limited by applicable laws relating to bankruptcy, insolvency, restructuring, receivership, compulsory administration, involuntary liquidation, enforcement, account blockade and/or other similar laws relating to or affecting creditors' rights generally (including protective measures imposed by the governmental bodies and institutions, especially the Federal Banking Agency as the micro-finance activities regulator) to the extent they are applicable. The fulfilment of obligations under the Bosnian Guarantee may further be affected by general legal principles such as standards of public policy, public moral, good faith, fair dealing, reasonableness (especially in exercising discretion), materiality, changed circumstances, force majeure, abuse of rights, corporate benefit and good customs that may be applied by a court, arbitration and/or other competent authority to the exercise of rights and remedies.

Bankruptcy proceedings

In case of institution of bankruptcy proceedings against the Guarantor, the court will appoint a bankruptcy trustee who shall assume control over the business and assets of the Guarantor. Bankruptcy proceedings may result in the annulment of the Guarantee, and considering that the costs of bankruptcy proceedings shall be covered prior to satisfaction of any claims of creditors, bankruptcy proceedings may have several negative impacts.

The Bosnian law on bankruptcy proceedings allows the bankruptcy trustee to contest/challenge (pobijanje) bankruptcy debtor's or their shareholders' legal actions (or failure to undertake legal actions) in the period varying from one year up to five years before the date of submission of request for initiation of bankruptcy proceedings. Such challenge request can be submitted within two years from the date of acceptance of bankruptcy request by the court or in a separate litigation procedure. There are various reasons based on which a contest/challenge can be made, the most common of them being where: (i) fair treatment of the settlement of creditors is disturbed or certain creditors are put in a more advantageous position even though they should have been equally ranked with other creditors, (ii) transactions with third parties were made with no or for under value consideration or (iii) such a transaction deliberately harms some of the debtor's creditors, where the third parties knew, at the time when the transaction was performed, about the debtor's insolvency and that such a transaction will harm some of the creditors.

If a challenge in the bankruptcy proceeding is successful, the entire challenged amount has to be returned to the insolvency estate, whilst the creditor remains entitled to claim the appropriate indemnification amount in accordance with its ranking in the insolvency estate (whereby a secured claim, the settlement of which has been successfully challenged, is upon the return of funds then treated as an unsecured claim).

The bankruptcy trustee shall organize the sale of the assets of the company for the purpose of creditors' settlement. Proceeds from the sale of assets would be allocated as follows: the expenses created during the bankruptcy proceedings shall be settled before any creditors. The claims of the debtor's employees for wages incurred until the moment of opening the bankruptcy proceedings in the full gross amount, severances payments up to the amount prescribed by the law and claims for payment of compensation for damages for employment related injuries, are considered as priority claims and would be settled prior to claims of creditors.

The claims of a creditor have general payment priority and may be settled only after the expenses created during the bankruptcy procedure are settled and the creditors of the priority ranking (listed above) have had their claims paid in full. Hereby, we emphasize that creditors would be settled pro rata with the remaining creditors of the same payment priority and that the interest on the claims of the creditor incurred since the opening of the bankruptcy proceedings would be a part of the lower payment priority. The third (lowest) rank consists of (i) interest in the proceeding, the claims of the bankruptcy creditors incurred after opening of the bankruptcy proceeding, (ii) costs of particular bankruptcy creditors incurred during its participation, (iii) administrative and criminal fines and related damage claims, (iv) claims related to particular gratuitous actions of the debtor, (v) equity replacing loans and (vi) claims arising from subordinated loans.

Notwithstanding the above, creditors secured by specific assets of the bankruptcy estate (mortgage creditors, pledge creditors and creditors to whom the debtor has assigned specific rights as security), are entitled to separate settlement from the proceeds made by the sale of the secured assets for their principal claims, interest and costs.

Reorganization proceedings

The ability to receive payments on the Bonds under the Guarantee issued by a Bosnian entity may be negatively affected if reorganization proceedings are initiated against the Guarantor. Upon opening of the bankruptcy proceedings, a reorganization plan may be prepared based on the motion of the bankruptcy trustee or the bankruptcy debtor. The reorganization plan may have a negative impact on the claims of the creditors, since the reorganization plan may deviate from the provisions of law governing the bankruptcy and distribution of the bankruptcy estate.

The restructuring plan may include rules for the transformation of claims, including extension of payment terms and reduction of debt amounts. As a general rule, the restructuring plan must be accepted by the simple majority of creditors with voting rights and be approved by the court.

Limitations for granting guarantees

According to the Bosnian law on foreign exchange operations “Official Gazette of Bosnia and Herzegovina”, no. 41/2010, together with relevant secondary regulations (the “Forex Law” or the “FX Rules”), the Bosnian resident company may issue and grant Guarantees in favor of a non-resident creditor as security for loan transactions between non-residents. The relevant security instruments must be reported to the Ministry of Finance which needs to issue the necessary certificate of registration of the Company's Guarantee/security provided under the transaction documents. The delay in meeting the deadline for filing the reporting application constitutes an offence of the resident company subject to monetary penalties. Besides the monetary fine, a sanction may be imposed to the resident company from carrying out the business activity in the shortest period of three months and maximum duration of six months. The Ministry of Finance assesses in practice in discretionary manner if the filed document is compliant with the Forex Law before confirming the reporting as completed.

As an additional requirement, the Bosnian FX Rules state that a local Guarantee provider has to obtain such security that is sufficient and adequate to secure the fulfilment of a local Guarantee provider's recourse rights in the event that a non-resident beneficiary enforces the Guarantee provided by a local Guarantee provider. The applicable legislation does not specify what type of security interest would be considered as sufficient and adequate for this purpose, but there is a common understanding that any form of validly created and enforceable security would be deemed as being such. The failure of the resident company to obtain such counter-security would not affect the validity or enforceability of a Guarantee granted by a local Guarantor to a non-resident, but would rather expose a local security provider to penalties/administrative fines mandated under the Forex Law.

Although the applicable foreign exchange regulations in Bosnia and Herzegovina do not provide explicitly for such restriction, the Ministry of Finance is of the opinion that a local company can provide a Guarantee in favor of a non-resident creditor as a security for a loan transaction effected between two non-residents, but only up to the amount of profit that such local company realized by conducting its business abroad (i.e. outside of Bosnia and Herzegovina) in the preceding year. This actually implies that the maximum amount guaranteed by the Bosnian resident company would be capped to the amount of the profit generated by the company outside of Bosnia and Herzegovina in the preceding year. Moreover, the form of the notification which a local resident has to submit to the Ministry of Finance when notifying a Guarantee contains a field for providing information on the profit generated by such resident outside of Bosnia and Herzegovina in the preceding year and the Ministry of Finance has in its instruction for filing of the relevant registrations forms further clarified that this is the amount representing a cap of the amount guaranteed by the company. The latter might be seen as an indication that the Ministry of Finance might apply this limitation in practice.

As noted above, the FX Rules stipulate that the company may issue and grant Guarantees in favor of a non-resident creditor as security for loan transactions between non-residents. The FX Rules do not explicitly list bonds as a type of loan transactions between the non-resident for which a resident may grant security, than the latter only provide that the loan transactions include financial and commercial loans, and other transaction whose economic purpose is equal to the purpose of a loan transaction. Therefore, the risk that the Ministry of Finance interprets that bonds are not the type of transaction for which a resident may grant a Guarantee may not be excluded.

According to the principle of corporate assets' preservation and rules on capital maintenance and payments to shareholders and affiliates, shareholders may not directly or indirectly reclaim their contributions and are entitled only to payment of dividends (profits) or (re)payment of capital following a decrease of share capital or liquidation. In that respect, there are certain theoretical discussions that payments pursuant to up-stream Guarantees granted by a Bosnian company in order to guarantee debt of its (indirect) shareholder or affiliates might, under certain theoretical circumstances, qualify as a type of the payment of capital violating the aforementioned provisions on capital maintenance/payments to shareholders and affiliates if not provided at arm's length basis or if provided against the corporate benefit. Consequently, such payments might be challenged as contrary to the aforementioned capital maintenance rules and rules limiting the payments to shareholders and affiliates. There is no court practice in this respect or any publicly available court decision backing to such interpretation of the applicable provisions or corresponding theoretical conclusions.

- (i) confirms that he/she/it has read the Prospectus and the Prospectus summary translated into Estonian, Latvian, Lithuanian or German;
- (ii) accepts the terms and conditions of the Offering set out in this section “Subscription, Sale and Offer of the Bonds”, elsewhere in this Prospectus and agrees with the Issuer that such terms will be applicable to the investor’s acquisition of any Bonds;

7. Payment

By submitting a Subscription Undertaking to the financial institutions, an investor authorises and instructs the financial institution operating the investor’s cash account connected to its securities account (which may or may not also be the investor’s custodian) to immediately block the whole transaction amount on the investor’s cash account until the settlement is completed or funds are released in accordance with these terms and conditions. The transaction amount to be blocked will be equal to the Offer Price multiplied by the Maximum Amount. Investors may submit Subscription Undertakings only when there are sufficient funds on the cash account connected to its securities account to cover the whole transaction amount for that particular Subscription Undertaking.

By submitting a Subscription Undertaking to the Issuer through its website (bonds.iute.ee), the investor will need to prepay an amount equal to the Offer Price multiplied by the Maximum Amount to the Issuer's cash account as further detailed in the forms for Subscription Undertakings provided on the Issuer's website (bonds.iute.ee).

8. Distribution and Allocation

The Issuer expects to decide on the allocation of the Bonds after the expiry of Offer Period and on or about 27 September 2021. The Bonds will be allocated to the investors participating in the Offering in accordance with the following principles:

- (i) the division of Bonds between the retail and institutional investors has not been predetermined. The Issuer will determine the exact allocation in its sole discretion;
- (ii) under the same circumstances, all investors shall be treated equally, whereas dependant on the number of investors and interest towards the Offering, the Issuer may set minimum and maximum number of the Bonds allocated to one investor; which will apply equally to both – the retail investors and the institutional investors;
- (iii) the allocation shall be aimed to create a solid and reliable investor base for the Issuer;
- (iv) the Issuer shall be entitled to prefer Estonian, Latvian, Lithuanian and German investors to foreign investors who may participate in the non-public offering;
- (v) the Issuer shall be entitled to prefer its existing Shareholders and bondholders of the Issuer to other investors;
- (vi) possible multiple Subscription Undertakings submitted by an investor shall be merged for the purpose of allocation; and
- (vii) each investor entitled to receive the Bonds shall be allocated a whole number of Bonds and, if necessary, the number of Bonds to be allocated shall be rounded down to the closest whole number. Any remaining Bonds which cannot be allocated using the above-described process will be allocated to investors on a random basis.

The Issuer expects to announce the results of the Offering and the allocation on or about 27 September through the information systems of the Nasdaq Tallinn Stock Exchange and the Frankfurt Stock Exchange and through the Issuer's website (bonds.iute.ee). The results of the Offering will be notified vis-à-vis the CSSF.

Investors will be informed via their relevant financial institution or the Issuer, as the case may be, to which extent their Subscription Undertakings were accepted.

9. Settlement and Trading

The Bonds allocated to investors are expected to be transferred to their securities accounts on or about 6 October 2021 (i) through the "delivery versus payment" method if subscribed via financial institutions, simultaneously with the transfer of payment for such Bonds on terms announced for the Offering or (ii) through the "free of payment" method if subscribed via the Issuer's website (bonds.iute.ee) and prepayed by investors until the end of the Offer Period. The title to the Bonds will pass to the relevant investors when the Bonds are transferred to their securities accounts.

If an investor has submitted several Subscription Undertakings through several securities accounts, the Bonds allocated to such investor will be transferred to all such securities accounts proportionally to the number of the Bonds indicated in the Subscription Undertakings submitted for each account, rounded up or down as necessary. Trading of the Bonds is expected to commence on the Nasdaq Tallinn Stock Exchange and on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange on or about 6 October 2021.

10. Return of Funds

If the Offering or a part thereof is cancelled, if the investor's Subscription Undertaking is rejected or if the allocation is less than the amount of the Bonds applied for, the funds blocked on the investor's cash account, on the Issuer's cash account or on the Paying Agent's cash account, as the case may be, (or the excess part thereof) will be released by the respective financial institution. Regardless of the reason for which funds are released, the Issuer shall never be liable for the release of the respective funds and for the payment of interest on the released funds for the time they were blocked (if any).

11. Cancellation of Offering and Extension or Shortening of the Offer Period

The Issuer has the right to cancel the Offering in full or in part in its sole discretion, at any time until the end of the Offer Period. In particular, the Issuer may decide to cancel the Offering in the part not subscribed for.

Furthermore, the Issuer has a right to shorten or extend the Offer Period, at any time until the end of the Offer Period.

Any cancellation of the Offering, or the shortening or extension of the Offer Period, will be announced through Nasdaq Tallin's website (www.nasdaqbaltic.com), Frankfurt Stock Exchange's website (www.boerse-frankfurt.de) and through the Issuer's website (<https://iutecredit.com/prospectus/>). 12. Conflicts of Interests

According to the best knowledge of the board of managers of the Issuer, persons involved in the Offering do not have any personal interests in the Offering, which would be material to the Offering. The management is unaware of any conflicts of interests related to the Offering.
